Acknowledgments

Thank you to my husband Kevin; my children, Zach and Jared; my parents, Lorin and Margaret-Lee Thompson; and my brothers, Dan and John. Thank you to my mentors: Larry Jones, Pat Kuszler, Mary Hotchkiss, Cynthia Hallen, and Jane Ellis. Thank you to all of my great English teachers and professors, particularly Steve Arkle, Ray Williams, the late Bruce Clark, and Darrell Spencer. Thanks to Laura Harris, Sarah Harris, and Fran Platt for their advice on the book, and to Peter London, Lisa Barelli, and the other publishers and authors who helped with this project. Finally, thanks to Keith Sipe, Zoë Oakes, Tim Colton, Suzanne Morgen, and Martha Hopper at Carolina Academic Press for making this book a reality.

Introduction

As a disability law attorney and the sister of someone with Down Syndrome, I love to read about disability. This book contains some of my favorite works. Each selection is preceded by a short author biography and is followed by a list of possible discussion questions and further readings. The bibliography at the end of the book contains full citations for each selection in the main text and for each work cited in the “For Further Reading” sections.

I welcome your comments about the book, and invite your suggestions for additional discussion questions and further readings.
