ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

This Third Edition is only possible thanks to the hard work of a team of research assistants here at King Hall—Kurt Oldenburg, Courtney O’Brien, and Michael Palzes, all class of 2012, and especially Daniel Hoer, class of 2013, who has worked since last summer to make this revision a reality. For the book itself, I wish to thank Margaret Johns, whose dedication to the students at King Hall always shows, and my wife and colleague, Debbie, for her help and support.

Rex R. Perschbacher

It has been my great pleasure to work with Rex in developing this course and these materials. I’m grateful to my colleagues, friends, and family for their support and encouragement. As always Tim Colton at Carolina Academic Press did an outstanding job on the manuscript and cover. Most of all, my thanks to the first-year students at King Hall who have made teaching Introduction to Law an altogether wonderful experience.
