EDITORS' NOTE

This statutory supplement contains certain rules of contract law that are cited in the casebook Contemporary Contract Law—Cases and Problems, Third Edition. We have generally not included rules that are either reproduced or described in the casebook and the casebook generally does not reproduce or describe the rules that are contained in this statutory supplement. When the casebook directs the student to either a rule from the Uniform Commercial Code, the Restatement (Second) of Contracts or the Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods (CISG), the student should look in this supplement.

The selections from the Uniform Commercial Code included in this supplement are from the official text in place at the time of this writing (2012). The sections from Article 1 are thus from the 2001 and 2008 revised versions of Article 1.
