MATTHEW  BENDER

About the Authors

Michael Gerber is a Professor Law, former Interim Dean, and Director of the Business Boot Camp program at Brooklyn Law School. For many years he also served as the Associate Dean for Development. He writes and lectures on corporate governance in bankruptcy, bankruptcy ethics, the treatment of intellectual property interests in bankruptcy, dot-com bankruptcies, international and comparative insolvency law, and other business bankruptcy and reorganization topics. He is a contributing author of Collier on Bankruptcy, the leading treatise on bankruptcy law. At Brooklyn Law School, he helps lead the annual Barry Zaretsky Roundtable, which focuses on cutting-edge bankruptcy issues, and he is the director of the law school's foreign summer study programs in Beijing and Bologna. He is a member of the School's Dennis J. Block Center for the Study of International Business Law and the School's Center for the Study of Business Law and Regulation. Prior to joining the faculty, Professor Gerber practiced law at Proskauer Rose. He has twice served on the Merit Selection Panel for a Bankruptcy Judge in the Eastern District of New York and on the Committee on Bankruptcy and Corporate Reorganization of the New York City Bar. He is a member of the Federal Bar Council, the New York City Bar Association, and the American Bar Association.

George W. Kuney is the Lindsay Young Distinguished Professor of Law and Director of the Clayton Center for Entrepreneurial Law at The University of Tennessee College of Law in Knoxville, Tennessee. He holds a J.D. from the University of California, Hastings College of the Law, an M.B.A. from The University of San Diego, and a B.A. in economics from the University of California, Santa Cruz. Before joining the UT faculty in 2000, he was a partner in the Allen Matkins firm's San Diego office. Previously, he practiced with the Howard Rice and Morrison & Foerster firms in his hometown of San Francisco, doing litigation and transactional work largely in the context of business restructuring and insolvency. He teaches business law courses, including: Business Associations, Contracts, Contract Drafting, Commercial Law, Consumer Bankruptcy, Debtor-Creditor, Mergers and Acquisitions, Representing Enterprises, and Workouts and Reorganizations. Kuney writes books and articles about business, contracts, commercial law, and insolvency-related topics; advises clients nationwide regarding bankruptcy, restructuring, reorganization, and related subjects; and conducts training seminars for law firm associates and summer associates regarding business law and transactional drafting.
