

Legal Literacy and Communication Skills

Legal Literacy and Communication Skills

Working with Law and Lawyers

Jennifer Murphy Romig

PROFESSOR OF PRACTICE
EMORY UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF LAW

Mark Edwin Burge

PROFESSOR OF LAW
DIRECTOR OF SAN ANTONIO PROGRAMS
TEXAS A&M UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF LAW

CAROLINA ACADEMIC PRESS

Durham, North Carolina

Copyright © 2020
Carolina Academic Press, LLC
All Rights Reserved

Library of Congress Cataloging-in-Publication Data

Names: Romig, Jennifer Murphy, author. | Burge, Mark Edwin, author.
Title: Legal literacy and communication : working with law and lawyers /
Jennifer Murphy Romig, Mark Edwin Burge.
Description: Durham : Carolina Academic Press, 2019.
Identifiers: LCCN 2019036974 | ISBN 9781531012618 (paperback) | ISBN
9781531012625 (ebook)
Subjects: LCSH: Legal composition. | Communication in law--United States. |
Law--United States--Language. | Courts--United States. | Justice,
Administration of--United States.
Classification: LCC KF250 .R629 2019 | DDC 808.06/634--dc23
LC record available at <https://lcn.loc.gov/2019036974>

Carolina Academic Press
700 Kent Street
Durham, North Carolina 27701
Telephone (919) 489-7486
Fax (919) 493-5668
www.cap-press.com

Printed in the United States of America

To my mom, Linda Kay Murphy, my inspiration for embracing creativity plus valuing attention to detail
—JMR

To my wife, Rhonda West Burge, who has an amazing talent for making life better
—MEB

Contents

Acknowledgments	xvii
Chapter 1 • Foundations of Legal Literacy	3
I. Literacy and Legal Literacy	4
II. Competent Legal Literacy	6
III. Legal Literacy Today	8
IV. Legal Literacy and the Structure of This Book	10
Introduction to the Legal Literacy Case Study	12
Chapter 2 • Foundations of the United States Legal System	15
I. Law: Relationships with Government and with Others	16
A. The Distinction between Criminal Law and Civil Law	16
B. The Distinction between Public Law and Private Law	18
II. The Legal Framework of United States Law	21
A. The Constitution and Branches of Government	21
1. The Legislative Branch (Article I of the Constitution)	21
2. The Executive Branch (Article II of the Constitution)	22
3. The Judicial Branch (Article III of the Constitution)	22
4. Other Key Constitutional Features	22
B. Federal and State Legal Systems	23
C. Local Government	25
III. How Law Changes Over Time	26
A. Changing Statutes and Regulations	26
B. Cases and the Changing Common Law	27
C. The Interplay of Cases and Statutes	28
IV. The Rule of Law	29
V. Conclusion	29
Case Study: U.S. Legal Structure and Uses	30
Chapter 3 • Foundations of the Practice and Unauthorized Practice of Law	33
I. The Legally Literate Professional	34
II. Bridging the Gap with Lawyers	35
A. Roles in the Legal Landscape	36
B. The Practice of Law and the Unauthorized Practice of Law	36
C. State Variations	38
III. Problem Solving in the Shadow of the Unauthorized Practice of Law	39
A. The “Hot Potato” Approach	40
B. The “Lone Wolf” Approach	40

C. The Middle Ground: Working on Legal Issues with Law and Lawyers	41
1. “The Facts”	41
2. “Fit into a Legal Category”	41
3. “With Consequences”	42
IV. Working with Law as an Employee	43
V. Sharing Information and Solving Problems for Others	44
VI. Legal Analysis and the Practice of Law	45
Case Study	46
Traditions and Trends	48
Chapter 4 • Foundations of Reading Legal Information	51
I. Close Reading of Legal Texts: A Process	52
A. Step 1: Determine the Document Context	53
1. Primary and Secondary Sources	54
2. Contracts and Other Legal Instruments	55
3. Factual Documents	56
4. Negotiation Documents	56
5. Blurred Lines	56
B. Step 2: Skim the Text	57
1. Skimming for Structure	57
2. Skimming for Purpose	59
C. Step 3: Pick Your Strategy	60
D. Step 4: Identify Key Legal Language	61
1. Finding Substantive Key Terms	61
2. Finding Operative and Relational Key Terms	62
E. Step 5: Read Actively by Interacting with the Text	63
F. Step 6: Read Mindfully	63
II. Reading Cases: A Special Skill	65
A. The Parts of a Case	65
B. “Briefing” a Case	67
III. Becoming a Better Reader Over Time	69
A. Obtaining Guidance from Others	69
B. Self-Improvement	70
C. Outside Resources	72
Case Study	72
Dulcinea N. Cuellar v. Walgreens Co. and Jim Lindsey	73
Traditions and Trends	76
Chapter 5 • Foundations of Legal Analysis	79
I. Introduction to Predictive Legal Advice	80
II. IRAC: The Typical Legal Analysis Method	82
III. Rule-Based Reasoning	83
A. Elemental Tests	84

B. Factor Tests	85
C. Other Rule Variations	87
IV. Reasoning by Analogy	88
V. Predictive and Persuasive Analysis Amidst Uncertainty	89
VI. Legal Analysis in Action: An Example	90
A. Prelude to IRAC: Collecting the Facts	91
B. Issue— Stating the Thesis	93
C. Rule	94
1. Rule Statement: Isolating the Basic Legal Test	94
2. Explaining the Rule in Action	95
D. Application— Analogical Reasoning in Action	98
1. Supporting Analysis	98
2. Counter-Analysis	100
E. Conclusion— Meaningful Summation	101
VII. Client Follow-Up: Now What?	102
VIII. Tying It All Together	103
Case Study: Working with Legal Analysis	104
Traditions and Trends	106
Chapter 6 • Using the Internet for Legal Research	109
I. Getting Started with Legal Research	110
A. Finding a Contextual Framework	111
B. Spotting Trends	111
C. Finding Specifics	112
D. Getting Comprehensive	112
II. Identifying the Standard for Successful Legal Research	113
A. Recognizing When Legal Information Is Needed	114
B. Knowing What Information Is Needed	115
C. Knowing How to Locate the Needed Information	116
D. Knowing How to Evaluate the Needed Information	117
E. Knowing How to Use the Needed Information	117
F. Knowing How to Use the Needed Information Effectively	118
III. Choosing a Starting Point	119
A. Official Websites	120
B. Reliable Legal Research Portals	123
C. General Purpose Search Engines	125
1. Basic Searching	125
2. Advanced Search Techniques	126
D. Proprietary Fee-Based Platforms	126
IV. Conducting Legal Research as a Process	127
A. Taking Good Notes	127
B. Applying Strong Legal Reading Skills	128

C. Balancing Persistence with Flexibility	129
D. Staying Organized, Both with Hard Copies and Online Material	129
V. Completing the Legal Research Process	130
Case Study: Planning Internet Research	131
Traditions and Trends	131
Chapter 7 • Finding and Reading Secondary Sources	133
I. Basics of Secondary Research	134
A. Gaining Context	134
B. Finding Primary Sources	135
II. Types of Secondary Sources	136
A. Legal Dictionaries	136
B. Wikipedia	137
C. Scholarly Secondary Sources	138
D. Legal Blogs and Bar Journal Articles	139
E. Government Guides	139
F. Advocacy and Policy Guides	140
III. Practical Considerations for Evaluating Online Secondary Sources	140
A. Dates and Updates	140
B. Descriptive or Normative?	141
IV. Using Good Secondary Sources to Your Advantage	141
V. Writing about and Sharing Secondary Sources?	142
VI. Conclusion	143
Case Study	144
Traditions and Trends	149
Chapter 8 • Finding and Reading Statutes	151
I. The Basic Path of Legislation	152
II. The Organization of Statutory Codes	154
III. Researching State Codes and Legislative History Online	155
IV. Understanding and Using the Structure of a Code	158
V. When Research Comes Up Empty	159
VI. Reading Statutes	160
A. A Brief Introduction to Statutory Interpretation	160
B. Differing Approaches to Statutory Interpretation	161
C. Canons of Construction	163
VII. Conclusion	164
Case Study	165
Traditions and Trends	165
Chapter 9 • Finding and Reading Regulations and Other Administrative Sources	167
I. Overview of the Federal Administrative State	168
II. Agencies and Their Statutory Mandates	171

III. Researching Administrative Law	172
A. The Federal Register (and State Counterparts)	172
B. Regulations.gov	175
C. The New Govinfo.gov	176
D. Agency Websites	176
E. State-Specific Administrative Law Sites	177
F. Agency Guidance	178
IV. Reading and Interpreting Agency Rules and Guidance	179
V. Administrative Adjudicatory Decisions	182
VI. Conclusion	182
Case Study	183
Traditions and Trends	183
Chapter 10 • Finding and Reading Cases	185
I. The Structure of the Court System in the United States	186
A. Trial Courts	187
B. Appellate Courts	188
C. Federal and State Courts	190
1. Federal Courts	191
2. State Courts	193
II. Researching Cases	195
A. Searching and Filtering for Jurisdiction	196
1. Researching State Law	196
2. Researching Federal Law	197
3. Not Sure If State or Federal Law, or Both	198
B. Searching and Filtering for a Key Term	198
C. Sorting Results	200
D. Validating and Updating Case Research: Is It “Good Law”?	202
E. Tracking Pending Cases	204
III. Reading and Synthesizing Cases	204
IV. Conclusion	207
Case Study	208
Traditions and Trends	208
Chapter 11 • Reading and Writing Legal Citations	211
I. Basic Functions of Citations	212
A. Sample Citations	213
B. What Each Citation Communicates	213
II. A Quick History of Legal Citation	214
III. Basic Primer on Citation Formats	216
A. Primary Sources	217
B. Secondary Sources	218
IV. Reading Citations in Text	218

V. Citations as Part of Legal Literacy and Problem-Solving	220
A. Judging the Reliability of a Secondary Source	220
B. Assessing a Legal Source Found by Typing a Question into a Search Engine	221
C. Evaluating Primary Sources Contained within Another Primary Source	222
VI. Writing Legal Citations	223
A. Creating a Full Citation	223
B. Adding a Pinpoint Page Citation (Pincite)	224
C. Incorporating Legal Citations into the Text	224
D. Using Short Citations	226
VII. Alternatives to Formal Legal Citations: Attributions and Links	227
A. Choosing and Incorporating Hyperlinked Sources	227
B. Journalistic Attributions in Text	229
C. Footnotes	229
VIII. Conclusion	230
Case Study: Legal Citations	230
Traditions and Trends	233
Chapter 12 • Reviewing Contracts— Form and Organization	235
I. What Do We Mean by the Term “Contract”?	236
II. Contract Drafting Style	238
III. Parts of a Formal Contract	239
Noncompetition Agreement	239
A. Title	243
B. Preamble	243
C. Recitals (Background)	245
D. Words of Agreement	246
E. Definitions	247
F. Working Provisions	249
1. Principal Working Provisions	250
2. Secondary Working Provisions	251
3. Representations and Warranties	252
4. Construction Terms	252
5. Endgame Provisions	253
G. General Provisions (Boilerplate)	254
H. Signature Blocks	257
IV. The Role of Governing Law	258
Case Study	259
Traditions and Trends	262
Chapter 13 • Reviewing Contracts— Content	265
I. Identifying the “Contract Concepts”	266

A. Declarations	267
B. Covenants (and Corresponding Rights)	267
C. Discretionary Authority	269
D. Representations and Warranties	270
E. Conditions	272
II. Identifying Important Common Provisions	274
A. Arbitration Clause	274
B. Forum-Selection Clause	276
C. Recovery of Attorney's Fees	277
D. Liquidated Damages Clause	278
E. Force Majeure Clause	280
F. Indemnity Clause	280
III. Balancing Legal Advantages with Business Issues	281
Case Study	284
Traditions and Trends	290
Chapter 14 • Email and Other Correspondence	293
I. Background Law and Terminology Affecting Legal Communications	294
A. Attorney-Client Privilege and the Work-Product Doctrine	294
B. Discovery	295
C. Third-Party Discovery and Subpoenas	296
D. Document Retention Policies and Spoliation	296
E. Substantive Legal Doctrines	297
II. Overview of Legal Correspondence	298
A. Correspondence by Attorneys	298
1. Client Letters and Other Attorney-Client Communication	298
2. Demand Letters, Including Cease-and-Desist Letters	298
3. Opinion Letters	299
B. Additional Select Categories of Correspondence with Legal Implications	300
III. Selecting and Making the Most of Your Medium	301
A. Letters	301
B. Email	302
C. Text Messages	303
D. Phone Calls	303
IV. Writing Effective Correspondence	304
A. Providing Context	304
B. Organizing the Content	306
C. Being Persuasive	310
D. Editing for Appropriate Voice and Style	313
E. Wrapping Up	314
V. Email Etiquette and Legal Communications	315

Case Study	317
Traditions and Trends	317
Chapter 15 • Working with Facts	321
I. Facts, Inferences, Characterizations, and Conclusions	323
A. What Is a Fact?	323
1. Subjective Beliefs and Intent as Facts	324
2. Knowledge and Constructive Knowledge	325
3. Common Sense	325
B. What Makes a Fact Relevant?	326
1. Determining Relevance	327
2. Background Facts	330
C. Inferences	331
D. Characterizations	331
E. Legal Conclusions	332
II. Generating Questions	333
III. Timelines and Other Visual Tools	335
IV. Describing and Summarizing Facts	338
A. Including Significant Facts	338
B. Organizing by Chronology and Topic	339
C. Designing for the Reader	341
D. Being Strategic in Including Detail	342
E. Acknowledging Gaps	342
F. Attributing the Source of Facts	343
G. Including Only Facts, not Opinion or Conjecture	344
H. Being Clear and Concise	345
1. Minimizing Passive Verbs	345
2. Using Concrete Nouns and Subjects	345
V. Conclusion	346
Case Study	346
Traditions and Trends	349
Chapter 16 • Persuasive Writing	351
I. Introduction to Persuasion	352
A. Persuasion through Influence	352
B. Classic Rhetoric and Persuasion	353
C. Desire and Fear (Carrot and Stick)	354
D. Cognitive Psychology	354
E. Chains of Argument	355
F. Bringing the Theories Together: Common Themes	356
II. Introduction to Legal Persuasion: Legal Sources and Legal Arguments	356
A. Background on Persuasive Legal Arguments	356
B. Types of Legal Arguments	357

III. Persuasion in Context	361
A. Text	362
B. Intent	364
C. Precedent	367
D. Tradition	370
E. Policy	371
IV. Enhancements to Persuasive Legal Arguments	373
A. Consider Adding Narrative	374
B. Consider Adding Visuals	375
V. Enhancing Your Persuasion with Editing and Proofreading	376
Case Study: Olivia Ralston’s Comment Advocating for Oat Milk	377
Traditions and Trends in Persuasive Legal Writing	378
Chapter 17 • Accurate and Consistent Legal Writing	381
I. Plain Language and Writing for the Reader	382
II. Accuracy	383
A. Using Legal Terms of Art Accurately and Appropriately	383
1. Keeping the Legal Term and Adding an Explanation	385
2. Keeping the Legal Term and Adding an Example	385
3. Replacing a Term, but Cautiously	386
B. Describing the Logic in Legal Information Accurately	386
C. Quoting Accurately and with Integrity	388
III. Consistency	390
IV. Punctuation Review	391
A. Using an Apostrophe to Make a Word Possessive, Not to Make a Word Plural	392
B. Using the Oxford Comma	392
C. Avoiding the Comma Splice	393
D. Using a Complete Sentence Before a Colon	394
E. Using a Semicolon for Complex Lists and Balanced Independent Clauses	394
V. Accuracy and Consistency with Singular Pronouns: A Complex and Evolving Situation	396
VI. Unlearning Old Writing Beliefs and Habits	398
Case Study	399
Traditions and Trends	400
Chapter 18 • Clear and Concise Legal Writing	403
I. Clear and Concise Words	404
A. General Word Choice	404
1. Precise Word Choice	404
2. Concrete Word Choice	404
3. Minimizing Nominalizations	405

B. Concise Word Choice	406
C. Special Focus: Passive Voice	406
D. Can Writing Be Too Concise?	409
II. Clear and Concise Sentences	410
A. Use One Main Idea per Sentence	411
B. Use a Concrete Subject	412
C. Use a Concrete Verb	413
D. Keep Subjects and Verbs Close Together	414
E. Use Parallel Language for Lists and Parallel Items	415
III. Clear and Concise Paragraphs	418
IV. Clarity in Organization and Design	419
V. Conclusion: Reforming “Legalese”	420
Case Study: Clear and Concise Editing	421
Appendix A • Tess Williams Case File (re: MegaMart)	425
Office Memorandum	425
Follow-Up Thoughts	426
Memorandum	427
Discussion	427
Appendix B • Olivia’s Beans Case File (re: Earth Foods, Inc.)	431
Contract for Sale of Goods	431
Federación de Cafeteros Pequeños de Colombia	433
About Us	433
Update—September 23, 20XX	433
Earth Foods, Inc.	434
Memorandum	435
Question Presented	435
Brief Answer	435
Statement of Facts	435
Discussion	436
Conclusion	439
Appendix C • Bibliography of Online Legal Glossaries	441
Government Websites	441
Academic Websites	442
Other Websites	442
Translations	442
Index	443

Acknowledgments

Many colleagues and friends have given feedback and advice on this book and on the pedagogy that led to this book. We are extremely grateful for their time, wisdom, and specific advice. Thank you to the following:

Emory Law student research assistants Dakota Fraley, Christian Morbidelli, Josh Jackson, and Jenna Corcoran; and Emory Law student Mary Bryan. Special acknowledgments are in order for Christian Morbidelli and Josh Jackson, who played crucial roles in developing the story of Olivia Ralston for the case study in this book. Texas A&M Law faculty James McGrath, Susan Phillips, Lisa Rich, Frank Snyder, and Nancy Welsh played valuable roles—frequently unaware—in the curricular “proof of concept” reflected in so many aspects of this book. Thanks also to Emory Law Librarians Elizabeth Christian and Christina Glon. We are grateful to Rhonda Burge and Kay Murphy for their skillful proofreading. We are also grateful to Jeannette Livingston at Emory Law for her able and timely administrative support.

We are also grateful to many other colleagues and friends who shared their expertise, reviewed chapters, and answered questions that helped us shape the direction of this book:

Renee Allen	Sue Payne
Lacy Bell	Robert Parrish
Alexa Chew	Kamina Pinder
Nancy Daspit	Nancy Overholtzer
Joe Fore	Sue Payne
Iselin Gambert	Kamina Pinder
Carl Gebo	Rebecca Purdom
Mindy Goldstein	Jeremy Richter
Emmett Griner	Suzanne Rowe
Eve Powell Griner	Robert Schapiro
Nicole Iannarone	Julie Seaman
Jennifer Judge	Allison Thornton
Scott Killingsworth	Sasha Volokh
Katrina June Lee	Reynolds Wilson
Ellie Margolis	Keely Youngblood
Jenn Mathews

Google and the Google logo are registered trademarks of Google LLC, used with permission.

