Series Editor's Foreword

The Carolina Academic Press Mastering Series is designed to provide you with a tool that will enable you to easily and efficiently “master” the substance and content of law school courses. Throughout the series, the focus is on quality writing that makes legal concepts understandable. As a result, the series is designed to be easy to read and is not unduly cluttered with footnotes or cites to secondary sources.

In order to facilitate student mastery of topics, the Mastering Series includes a number of pedagogical features designed to improve learning and retention. At the beginning of each chapter, you will find a “Roadmap” that tells you about the chapter and provides you with a sense of the material that you will cover. A “Checkpoint” at the end of each chapter encourages you to stop and review the key concepts, reiterating what you have learned. Throughout the book, key terms are explained and emphasized. Finally, a “Master Checklist” at the end of each book reinforces what you have learned and helps you identify any areas that need review or further study.

We hope that you will enjoy studying with, and learning from, the Mastering Series.

Preface

It is difficult to synthesize all of criminal procedure in two volumes. One finds state and federal differences in procedure, and systems that constantly change as a result of new statutes, rules, and court interpretations. The authors hope that this overview of criminal procedure will offer students an accessible study guide in understanding this important subject. The book, however, is not intended to serve as a guide for resolving a specific problem or case.

This Volume covers the major issues in criminal procedure that relate to the Fourth, Fifth, and Sixth Amendment rights provided in the U.S. Constitution and also covers entrapment. Volume Two examines procedure issues from the bail through the jail process and also considers post-conviction matters. Because the law is not stagnant, it is important to note in using the Mastering Criminal Procedure volumes that one needs to look to recent cases and legislative developments that may modify the existing law. We are grateful for the assistance of Andy Taslitz on the first edition of this treatise, and Margie Paris for her work on the first two editions of this treatise.

The third edition updates changes in the law since 2014, when the last edition appeared. We hope that our students will find it helpful in studying for exams in Criminal Procedure: Investigations and Criminal Procedure: Adjudication

There are many to thank:

- Professor Peter J. Henning thanks his assistant, Olive Hyman, who makes it all work, and the co-authors who made this third edition a pleasure.

- Professor Cynthia E. Jones thanks her wonderful research assistants, Joy Applewhite, Lisa Lumeya, and Karen Sams for their research and editing; and her Criminal Procedure students — past, present and future — at the American University Washington College of Law.

- Professor Ellen S. Podgor thanks Gordon J. Kirsch, Shannon Mullins, Scott Tolliver, Giovanni P. Giarratana, Megan Marx, Bradley V. Reed, and Eric Lyerly, Stetson University College of Law, and her incredible co-authors.

- Karen McDonald Henning: Thanks her co-authors and her Criminal Procedure students at University of Detroit Mercy Law School.
- Sanjay Chhablani: Thanks his Research Assistants and students at the Syracuse University College of Law and his wonderful co-authors.
