To my wife, Jessica, without whom I would accomplish very little; my sons, Jackson and Quinn, who keep me motivated to succeed in order to make each proud; and to my family who has sacrificed so much to get me to where I am in life. To my wonderful students over the years, especially my Cadets, who molded me into the professor I am today.

KJB

To the extraordinary students at Furman University who enrolled in my classes—you remain some of the finest people I know.

Acknowledgments

As with any project, there are many people to thank for their efforts in bringing this manuscript to publication. Specifically, we would like to thank Alison Comack, a former student at West Liberty University, for all her help. Additionally, we would also like to thank each contributor for their insightful and thoughtful articles that comprise this reader. Finally, thanks go to Beth Hall and the staff at Carolina Academic Press for their encouragement, support, and expertise.
