

EXTENDING JUSTICE

Extending Justice

STRATEGIES TO INCREASE INCLUSION AND REDUCE BIAS

The Honorable Bernice B. Donald

Professor Sarah E. Redfield

EDITORS

Carolina Academic Press

Durham, North Carolina

Copyright © 2023
Carolina Academic Press, LLC
All Rights Reserved

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS CATALOGING-IN-PUBLICATION DATA

Names: Donald, Bernice Bouie, 1951- editor. | Redfield, Sarah E., editor.
Title: Extending justice : strategies to increase inclusion and reduce bias / edited by Bernice B. Donald, Sarah E. Redfield.
Description: Durham, North Carolina : Carolina Academic Press, LLC, [2022]
Identifiers: LCCN 2022023217 (print) | LCCN 2022023218 (ebook) |
ISBN 9781531024697 (paperback) | ISBN 9781531024703 (ebook)
Subjects: LCSH: Justice, Administration of--United States--Psychological aspects. |
Discrimination in justice administration--United States. | Prejudices--United States.
Classification: LCC KF384 .E98 2022 (print) | LCC KF384 (ebook) |
DDC 347.73--dc23/eng/20220729
LC record available at <https://lcn.loc.gov/2022023217>
LC ebook record available at <https://lcn.loc.gov/2022023218>

Carolina Academic Press
700 Kent Street
Durham, North Carolina 27701
(919) 489-7486
www.cap-press.com

Printed in the United States of America

I dedicate this book to current and future generations of young lawyers who I hope will dedicate themselves to the work of ensuring justice, equality, and inclusion for all people and thereby complete the arc of justice!

—Judge Donald

I join Judge Donald in her dedication to our current and future lawyers and leaders. I also dedicate this book to my granddaughter, Harriet R. M. Redfield, in hopes that Hattie's life and choices will be unharmed by bias and enhanced by inclusion and equity.

—Professor Redfield

We dedicate this book to all of the family of authors of Enhancing Justice: Reducing Bias and Extending Justice: Strategies to Increase Inclusion and Reduce Bias. Our lives are enriched by the opportunity to work with these thought leaders. We are honored by their participation and support and applaud their work here and beyond.

Contents

Acknowledgments	xxiii
------------------------	--------------

One · Diverse Voices: A Critical Conversation about Bias

The Honorable Bernice B. Donald, Professor Justin D. Levinson, Professor Sarah E. Redfield	3
---	----------

About the Panelists	23
---------------------	----

Two · The Evolving Science on Implicit Bias: An Update for the Court Community

Jennifer K. Elek, Andrea L. Miller	25
------------------------------------	-----------

Acknowledgments	26
-----------------	----

Preface	26
---------	----

1. Understanding Implicit Bias	28
--------------------------------	----

A. Key Terms	28
--------------	----

B. Implicit Bias: The Basics	29
------------------------------	----

C. Is it implicit bias?	31
-------------------------	----

D. What is known about the origins of implicit biases?	31
--	----

i. Ingroup favoritism: We favor the familiar.	31
---	----

ii. Social learning: We are taught, but also “catch,” biases from others.	32
--	----

iii. Cultural knowledge: Our beliefs are shaped by our environment.	32
--	----

E. What is known about the pervasiveness and impact of implicit biases?	32
--	----

F. What types of situations are likely to bring out implicit biases?	33
i. Situational incentives encourage speed over fairness and accuracy.	33
ii. Clear criteria for making a good decision are absent.	34
iii. Decisions are made in a distracting or otherwise stressful environment.	34
2. The Role of Implicit Bias in Understanding Inequality	35
A. Systemic Inequality	35
B. Cultural Inequality	35
C. Institutional Inequality	35
D. Organizational Inequality	36
E. Interpersonal Inequality	36
F. Bringing It All Together	37
3. The State of the Science on Bias Interventions	38
A. General Interventions to Reduce Prejudice and Discrimination	38
i. Intergroup Contact	38
ii. Structure versus Discretion	39
B. Implicit Bias Interventions	40
i. Interventions that attempt to change associations in memory	40
ii. Interventions that affect the expression of implicit bias	42
a. Bypassing interventions	42
b. Disruption interventions: Harnessing intrinsic motivation	43
c. Disruption interventions: Harnessing interpersonal motives	43
d. Disruption interventions: Forming new decision-making habits	43
iii. Key Takeaways	44
4. Implications for Courts and Their Communities	45
A. Lead by example—and know where you’re headed.	45
B. Educate not just to raise awareness, but to build capacity for change.	47
C. Gather information to understand what is really happening in your court and community.	48
D. Experiment: Design interventions based on the evidence and evaluate interventions for efficacy.	49
Conclusion	50
So, You’d Like to Know More	51
Appendix	52
Executive Order on Advancing Racial Equity and Support for Underserved Communities Through the Federal Government	52
About the Authors	52
Endnotes	53

Three · An Essay: Understanding the Threat of Right-Wing Extremism	69
Dr. Peter Simi
<hr/>
1. Background	70
2. We've got the names wrong and that impedes our understanding and response.	71
3. We believe their labels, which are not the reality.	71
4. January 6th: The "new" problem that isn't so new.	72
5. Combatting Misconceptions and Misperceptions	74
So, You'd Like to Know More	75
About the Author	76
Endnotes	76
Four · Implicit/Unconscious Bias in the Courtroom	77
The Honorable Mark W. Bennett (Ret.)
<hr/>
Introduction	78
1. The Admissibility of Expert Witnesses Testimony about Implicit/Unconscious Bias	78
2. Batson Challenges and Implicit/Unconscious Bias	81
3. Implicit Bias Jury Instructions and Implicit Bias Venire Videos	86
Conclusion	92
So, You'd Like to Know More	92
About the Author	93
Endnotes	93
Five · Algorithmic Bias in the Courtroom	101
Andrew Grosso, Antony Haynes
<hr/>
Introduction	102
1. Artificial Intelligence: An Overview	103
2. Predictive Algorithms and Risk Assessments: Warnings and Risks	105
A. Danger! Beware GIGO (Garbage In, Garbage Out)	105
B. Bad Programming → Bad Modeling → Error	106
C. Finding the Track Record: Are the Results Trustworthy? For Whom Does the Algorithm Fail?	107
3. Case Studies in Due Process: Computer Generated Risk Assessment	109
4. Statistical Fairness and Legal Fairness	111
5. Predictive Policing: The Minority Report Revisited	112
6. Facial Recognition Technology	114

x Contents

7. Judicial Analytics and Robot Judges	116
8. Algorithmic Accountability in the Courts	117
Conclusion	118
So, You'd Like to Know More	118
About the Authors	119
Endnotes	119
Six · Should Justice Really Be Blind? Can We Really Stay Silent? Implicit Bias in the Courtroom
Jack Fiander	125
<hr/>
1. A Personal Introduction	126
2. The Price of Implicit Bias	127
3. The Language of the Nation of Laws	127
4. What Can We Do?	129
A. An Example of Judicial Discretion to Limit Bias	129
B. An Example of the Use of Common Law to Limit Bias	130
C. An Example of Judicial Policy and Intervention to Limit Bias	131
5. Call to Action	132
So, You'd Like to Know More	133
About the Author	133
Appendix	134
Endnotes	137
Seven · Roundtable Conversation: Prosecutors' Reflections on Implicit Bias	139
<hr/>
Roundtable Participants	139
Calvin David Biggers, Jr.	139
Justin Bingham	140
The Honorable John T. Fowlkes, Jr.	140
Kim Parker	141
The Conversation	141
Eight · The Empathetic Prosecutor: Reducing Bias When Working with Victims, Survivors, and Witnesses
Linda Ford, Kristine Hamann, Tyear Middleton, Audrey Moore, Luis Morales, Sophia Roach, The Honorable Sherry Thompson Taylor	159
<hr/>
Introduction	161
1. What Is Bias?	162

A. Types of Bias	162
B. Impact of Bias in the Criminal Justice System	164
2. Initiatives for Interrupting and Reducing the Impact of Bias in the Prosecutor’s Office	165
A. Training	165
i. Training Topics	165
ii. Who Should Be Trained?	167
iii. Who Should Conduct the Training?	168
iv. When to Train	169
v. How to Train	169
vi. Invite the Community to the Office	170
B. Focusing on the Witness—Science-Based Interviewing	170
C. Officewide Procedural Justice	171
i. Guidelines for Interactions with Witnesses, Survivors, or Victims	171
ii. Make the Office Inviting and Appropriate	171
D. Hiring	172
E. Data Collection	172
F. Accountability	172
3. Initiatives for Interrupting and Reducing the Impact of Implicit Bias Outside the Prosecutor Office	173
A. Meet Community Members	173
B. Training in Schools and the Community	173
C. Internships and Mentoring	174
D. Community Outreach and Satellite Offices	174
E. Training of Law Enforcement	175
Conclusion	176
So, You’d Like To Know More	176
About the Authors	177
Appendix	178
General Law-Related References	178
Literature Exploring Bias	179
Endnotes	180

Nine · Narrative, Culture, and Individuation: A Criminal Defense
Lawyer’s Race-Conscious Approach to Reduce Implicit Bias for Latinxs

Walter I. Gonçalves, Jr. 183

Introduction	185
1. Race Consciousness and the Client-Centered Approach	185

2. Strategies to Mitigate the Impact of Implicit Bias	187
A. Recognizing Implicit Bias Within Oneself and the Office	187
B. Interviewing and Consulting with Clients Through Client-Centered Advocacy	189
C. Pretrial Motion Practice	190
D. Voir Dire	191
E. Client Testimony	192
F. Use of Expert Testimony	193
G. Narrative	193
H. Jury Instructions	194
I. Sentencing Advocacy	195
3. Strategies to Mitigate the Impact of Racial Bias for Latinx Clients	195
A. Implicit Bias and Its Impact on Latinxs	195
B. Negative Racial Bias from Historic and Contemporary Media Depictions	196
C. Individuation and Client Narratives to Counter Stereotypes and Schemas	198
D. The Use of Culture to Mitigate Implicit Bias and Negative Racial Stereotyping	201
E. Use of Checklists for Latinxs	203
F. Documentation and Summaries of Implicit Bias Research	204
Conclusion	204
So, You'd Like to Know More	205
About the Author	205
Endnotes	205

Ten · Pain, Power, and Courage: An Interview on the Role of Judges in Addressing Bias

The Honorable Bernice B. Donald, The Honorable Steven C. González, Professor Sarah E. Redfield	215
--	------------

Appendix	228
----------	-----

Eleven · Judicial Education on Implicit Bias: Instilling a Lifelong Pursuit of Fairness

The Honorable Reba Ann Page, The Honorable Benes Z. Aldana	231
--	------------

Introduction	232
1. The Urgency of Equal Justice for All	233

2. Lingering Legacies: Explicit Bias and the Evolution of Implicit Bias in the Judiciary	234
A. The Difficulties of Assessing the Persistent Influence of Bias	234
B. Echoes of Yesteryear: Today's Challenges of Implicit Bias in Race, National Origin/Ethnicity, and Gender	235
3. Views from the Bench	237
A. Conversations Regarding Implicit Bias with Jurists and Their Recommendations	237
i. Judge Reggie B. Walton	238
ii. Justice Robert J. Torres, Jr.	238
iii. Judge Veronica A. Galván	239
iv. Judge Kristin L. Rosi	239
B. Compiled Responses and Recommendations for Combatting Implicit Bias and Judicial Education	240
i. Responses to Question 2: Speaking both professionally and personally, what do you find most effective in combatting implicit biases?	240
ii. Responses to Question 3: With the goal of addressing implicit bias in the judiciary, what measures do you recommend for judicial education?	241
C. Responses to The National Judicial College's Surveys of Judges on Implicit Bias	242
i. July 2020 One-Question Survey	243
ii. July 2021 One-Question Survey	244
4. You've Got to Be Carefully Taught : Means and Methods of Judicial Education in Overcoming Implicit Bias	244
A. Sources of Judicial Education on Implicit Bias	245
i. The American Bar Association	245
ii. The National Center for State Courts	246
iii. The Innovative Response of the Iowa Judicial Branch to Implicit Bias	247
B. The National Judicial College's Efforts at Overcoming Implicit Bias	248
i. The NJC's Work Generally Speaking	248
ii. The NJC's Work on Implicit Bias in Particular	249
5. Measuring, Managing, and Responding to Questions of Judicial Ethics and Implicit Bias	249
Conclusion: A Path Forward in Overcoming Implicit Bias	251
So, You'd Like to Know More	252
About the Authors	252
Endnotes	253

Twelve · The Past, Present, and Future Trajectory of Implicit Bias Education for the Judiciary

Tyler N. Livingston, Shawn C. Marsh, The Honorable John H. Larsen 257

Introductory Note	258
1. The General Trajectory of Implicit Bias as a Topic in Judicial Education	260
2. Past: Initial Promise and Adoption	261
A. Research: The IAT Uncovers the Implicit Social Mind	261
B. Education: Legal Scholars Embrace Self-Insight	262
3. Present: Controversy and Criticism	264
A. Research: Thrust into the Popular Culture and Associated Attention	264
B. Education: Disparate Methods and Varied Success	266
C. A Note on Positionality: Effects of Judicial Attitudes on Judicial Decision-Making	267
4. Future: Preserving the Best and Improving the Rest	268
A. Research: Future Directions More Apparent Under Pressure	269
B. Education: Recent Insights Fuel Future Innovation	270
Conclusion	272
So, You'd Like to Know More	273
About the Authors	273
Endnotes	273

Thirteen · Leveraging and Interrupting Implicit Biases Concerning Women Trial Lawyers

Cynthia Eva Hujar Orr 279

Introduction	280
1. Defining the Context: Implicit or Unconscious Bias	281
A. Confirmation Bias and Ingroups	282
B. Male Lawyers as the Apex Ingroup	283
2. A Possible Solution: Bringing the Research on Women and Ingroups Together	285
A. Forming Ingroups to Neutralize Our Biases	285
B. Enhancing Affinity	286
Conclusion	287
So, You'd Like to Know More	287
About the Author	288
Endnotes	288

Fourteen · Confronting Implicit Bias in the Nonprofit Sector: A Personal Perspective

Angelic Young 293

Introduction	295
1. Industry Profile	296
2. Focus on Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion (DEI) Initiatives	298
A. Representation, Voice, and Agency in Nonprofit Organizations	300
B. The Dangers of Performative Allyship	301
C. The Importance of Agency and Accountability in Nonprofits	302
D. Exclusionary Language	305
E. Identity as a Liability	306
F. White (or Male) Fragility as a Crutch	307
3. Leadership and Organizational Action	310
A. Fit as Bias, Bias Disguised as Protectionism	310
B. Burden-Shifting	312
C. Mission Formulation for Nonprofits to Achieve DEI	313
4. Developing an Action Plan	314
A. Everyday Actions Leaders Can Take to Foster Inclusive Decision-Making in the Workplace	315
B. Everyday Actions Leaders Can Take Foster Inclusive Language in the Workplace	316
C. Everyday Actions Leaders Can Take to Foster Inclusive Culture	317
D. Track Your Progress	318
Conclusion	319
So, You'd Like to Know More	320
About the Author	321
Endnotes	321

Fifteen · Gender and Evaluation

Dr. Virginia Valian 325

Introduction	327
1. Men's and women's achievements are recognized and evaluated differently.	327
A. Three Small Local Phenomena	327
B. A Large-Scale Phenomenon	328
C. Laboratory Experiments and Audit Studies	330
D. Putting the Data Together	331
2. The way our minds take shortcuts (schemas) explains the differences.	332

A. Schemas	332
B. Generality of Schemas	333
C. How Schemas Work	335
3. Schemas can mesh or clash and can do so within or outside of awareness.	336
A. Accumulation of Advantage	336
B. Flawed Decision-Making	338
C. Moral Licensing	338
4. How can we achieve change such that evaluations will be more equitable?	340
A. The Individual Level: Education	340
B. The Individual Level: Intervention and Prevention	340
C. The Institutional Level: Policies and Procedures	341
Conclusion	342
So, You'd Like to Know More	342
About the Author	343
Endnotes	343

Sixteen · “Ducks Pick Ducks”: The Military’s Institutionalized Unconscious Bias Challenge

Lieutenant Colonel Susan E. Upward, USMC	347
--	------------

Introduction	348
1. Defining the Problem	349
A. The Gender Divide	349
B. The Racial Divide	352
C. 2020: The Tipping Point	354
2. 2021 and Beyond: “Getting After” the Problem	356
A. Judge advocates should take the lead.	357
B. Make diversity AND inclusion the goal.	359
C. Training must be mandatory and meaningful.	361
D. Leaders must buy-in and tie-in.	363
E. Learn from others.	365
F. Use the military’s professional reading lists.	367
G. Re-value physical fitness as a valuation metric.	368
3. The System Is Blinking Red . . . and Pink, Black, Brown, Yellow	370
Conclusion	372
So, You'd Like To Know More	372
About the Author	373
Endnotes	373

Seventeen · Addressing Underrepresentation in the Legal ProfessionTannera Gibson, Terrence Reed 385

Introduction	387
1. Calls to Increase Diversity and Inclusion	387
A. Shockingly Low Numbers	388
B. Responding to the Numbers et al.	388
C. Setting the Stage for Change, Recognizing Implicit Bias	390
D. Practical Reasons to Increase Diversity	391
2. Acknowledging Bias and Promising DEI Practices	392
3. Best Practices for Diverse Recruiting	393
A. Be intentional and deliberate with the hiring pipeline.	393
B. Collaborate with predominately minority law schools.	394
C. Collaborate with minority and female bar associations and participate in minority job fairs.	394
4. Best Practices for Increasing Diverse Hires	395
A. Use objective hiring standards—and stick with them.	396
B. Use blind resume reviews.	396
C. Use a standardized interview process.	396
D. Use job-related problem-solving tests.	397
E. Engage a diverse interview panel.	398
F. Separate and then aggregate evaluators' scoring.	399
G. Re-evaluate predictors of future job success.	400
5. Best Practices for Retaining and Developing Diverse Attorneys	402
A. Make the organizational culture more inclusive and equitable.	403
i. Understand diversity, equity, and inclusion.	403
ii. Lead from the top.	404
iii. Align the culture.	405
B. Use specific implementation strategies.	405
i. Offer customized employee training to address identified bias.	405
ii. Have minority leaders in the organization.	406
iii. Offer an anonymous complaint channel.	406
iv. Intentionally build diverse business units.	406
v. Provide for meaningful mentor and sponsor opportunities.	407
vi. Support employee network and affinity groups.	408
vii. Rid your organization of microaggressions and use microaffirmations.	409
viii. Overcoming Implicit Bias in the Employee Evaluation Process	411
6. Avoiding Reverse Discrimination Liability When Implementing Initiatives to Increase Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion	412

xviii Contents

Conclusion	413
So, You'd Like to Know More	413
About the Authors	414
Endnotes	414
Eighteen · From Rosie the Riveter to Health Equity: The Kaiser Permanente EID Journey
Mark Zemelman, Dr. Ronald L. Copeland, Professor Sarah E. Redfield	423
<hr/>
Participants	424
Dr. Ronald Copeland	424
Mark Zemelman	424
Sarah E. Redfield	424
About the Authors	443
Nineteen · Confronting the Hurricane
The Honorable Kevin S. Burke	445
<hr/>
Introduction	446
1. Recognizing There Is Bias	447
2. Progress in Reducing Bias	449
3. The Dimensions of the Problem Facing Courts	449
4. Significant Forces Impeding Effective Action to Combat Bias	452
5. Preparing for Hurricane Bias: The Parable of Two Wolves	455
6. Dealing with Hurricane Bias with Procedural Fairness	457
7. Is There a Storm in the Courthouses?	459
Conclusion	461
So, You'd Like to Know More	462
About the Author	462
Endnotes	462
Twenty · Roundtable Conversation: Reflections on Implicit Bias, Silence, and Invisibility
Patty Ferguson-Bohnee, Mary Smith, Sarah E. Redfield	467
<hr/>
So, You'd Like to Know More	482
So, You'd Like to Do More	483
About the Panelists	483
Appendix	484

Twenty-One · Children and the Law: Bias and the Juvenile Justice System

The Honorable Rhonda Hunter 487

Introduction	488
1. Historical Context	489
2. The Supreme Court Speaks to Juvenile Due Process et al.	491
A. In Re Gault (1967), Juvenile Due Process Rights	491
B. Kent v. United States (1966), Juveniles' Rights Before Transfer to Adult Court	492
C. Roper v. Simmons (2005) and Graham v. Florida (2010), Life Without Parole and Death Sentence for Minor as Cruel and Unusual Punishment	493
3. Collateral Consequences and Adulthood of Youth of Color	494
4. The Impact of Discretionary Decision-Making	496
5. Promising Approaches for Addressing Implicit Bias in Decision-Making	497
Conclusion	499
So, You'd Like to Know More	500
About the Author	500
Endnotes	501

Twenty-Two · Implicit Bias and People with Mental Disabilities: Taking Stock of the Criminal Justice System

Elizabeth Kelley, Nick Dubin 505

Introduction	506
1. Types of Prejudices Against Persons with Disabilities	508
A. Ableism	508
B. Essentialism	511
C. Sanism	512
D. Intersectionality	513
2. Interventions or Strategies for Participants in the Criminal Justice System	515
A. Training	515
B. Using Bias-Free Language	515
C. Re-examining Barriers and Assumptions	516
3. Participant-Relevant Approaches to Implicit Bias	517
A. Judges	517

B. Prosecutors	518
C. Criminal Defense Lawyers	520
D. Jail and Prison Officials	522
E. Police and Other Law Enforcement	523
Conclusion	523
So, You'd Like to Know More	524
About the Authors	524
Endnotes	525

Twenty-Three · Educational Disparity, the Great Unequalizer: How Racial and Learning Disability Biases Thwart Equity in Education

The Honorable Julian Mann, III, The Honorable Stacey Bice Bawtinheimer	529
---	------------

Introduction	531
1. Historical Perspective on Race, Disability, and Educational Disparities	532
A. Race and education disparities became deeply rooted during slavery and the Jim Crow era.	532
B. The separate but equal doctrine was eliminated, but education disparities persist.	533
2. Current Civil Rights Legislation Concerning Educating Students with Disabilities	534
3. Perspective from the School to Prison Pipeline	535
A. Comparative Reading Scores	536
B. Disproportionate Graduation Rates	537
C. Disproportionality in Students with Disabilities	537
4. Literacy Skills & Lifelong Achievement	538
A. The Need for Early Literacy Skills Foundation	538
B. Dyslexia and Problems with Early Identification	539
C. Considering Dyslexia in the Context of the IDEA Mandate	541
5. Implicit Bias and the Disconnect Between Educational Aspirations and Achievement	543
A. Expectations	544
B. The So-Called Uncaring Parent	544
C. Stereotype Threat	544
D. Race	545
6. The Detrimental Impact of Teacher Bias and Racial Disparity in Public School Teachers	545
A. Teachers don't know what they don't know.	545
B. Communication must be improved between teacher and students.	546

C. The eligibility process must be objective.	546
Conclusions and Recommendations	547
A. Identify dyslexia early and use proven teaching methods.	547
B. Remove subjective race-based eligibility decisions.	548
C. Support school funding reform.	548
Postscript: The irony is we know how to teach kids to read.	548
About the Authors	549
So, You'd Like to Know More	549
Endnotes	550

Twenty-Four · The Logic of Poverty: Rethinking Approaches to Socioeconomic Bias in Judicial Decision-Making

The Honorable Jennie D. Latta 559

Introduction	560
1. Social Class, Socioeconomic Status, Socioeconomic Bias—What's the Difference?	562
A. Social Class	562
B. Socioeconomic Status	562
C. Socioeconomic Bias	565
2. Supreme Court Approaches to Constitutional Questions Concerning the Poor	565
A. The District Court's Opinion — In re Kras	566
B. The Supreme Court's Decision — United States v. Kras	568
C. The Court's Analysis of Poverty	571
D. The Rest of the Story on In Forma Pauperis Bankruptcy	572
3. The Potential for Implicit Socioeconomic Bias in Judicial Decision-Making	572
4. Judicial Empathy and Judicial Diversity as Protections Against Socioeconomic Bias in Judicial Decision-Making	574
So, You'd Like to Know More	577
About the Author	577
Endnotes	577

Twenty-Five · Sexual Orientation and Gender Identity (SOGI)

Meghan DuPuis Maurus 583

1. It's critical to learn the terminology.	584
A. Gender Identity	586
B. Sexual Orientation	587
C. A Note on Pronouns	588

2. Even where laws protect LGBTQI+ persons, society has not always caught up.	589
3. Legal systems can fail to protect (or disproportionately impact) LGBTQI+ persons.	590
A. Employment	590
B. Criminal Law and Prisons	591
C. Identification Laws	592
4. There are best practices when working with LGBTQI+ individuals.	593
A. Eight General Strategies	593
B. Best Practices Specific to the Legal Profession	595
i. In Your Workplace, with Your Coworkers	595
ii. With Clients	595
Conclusion	597
So, You'd Like to Know More	597
About the Author	598
Appendix: Terminology Continued—Terms that Can Express Gender Identity	598
Intersex Identities	600
Terms that Can Express Gender Expression (but not limited to)	601
Sexual Orientation	601
One Other Important Term	602
Endnotes	602

Twenty-Six · Law Enforcement and Implicit Bias

Chief Anthony Holloway, Major Patrice Hubbard, Major Markus Hughes, Supervisor Jo-Anne Swensson	605
--	------------

Introduction	606
1. Why Do We Train Biased-Based Policing?	608
A. Procedural Justice	608
B. Manifestation of Implicit Bias	611
2. Who Receives Biased-Based Policing Training?	611
3. Best Practices for Implementing Biased-Based Policing Training	613
A. Training	613
B. Park, Walk and Talk	615
C. Community Partnerships	616
Conclusion	617
So, You'd Like to Know More	618
About the Authors	618
Endnotes	619

Index	621
--------------	------------

Acknowledgments

For their thoughtful and generous contributions to this book, we thank the Judge's Administrative Paralegal, Amy Duenes, and the Judge's clerks and former clerks: Michael Brody, Brianna Buckner, the Honorable Charmiane Claxton, Pablo Julian Davis, Malik Gerdes, Matthew Langley, Angel Lasley, Chase Teeple, Naira Umarov, and LaFonda Willis. We also express our special gratitude to Kristin Alatorre, Aubony Burns, Edward Cohen, Barbara Creel, the Honorable Ronald J. Hedges, Dr. Victoria (Tori) Knoche, the Honorable Jennie Latta, Kelli Murray, and Dr. Stewart Smith. We also thank the extraordinary people at Carolina Academic Press for their excellent work, for their vision in publishing this book, and for their commitment to its ideals.

