*“The speech I love is a simple, natural speech,
the same on paper as in the mouth;
a speech succulent and sinewy, brief and compressed,
not so much dainty and well-combed as vehement and brusque.”*

Michel de Montaigne
The Essays of Montaigne (1580)

*“The sincerity and marrow of the man reaches to his sentences.
I know not anywhere a book that seems less written.
Cut these words and they would bleed; they are vascular and alive.”*

Ralph Waldo Emerson
Representative Man (1850)
(Referring to Montaigne and his Essays)
