Mandela
Mandela
Tributes to a Global Icon

Edited by Toyin Falola

CAROLINA ACADEMIC PRESS
Durham, North Carolina
CONTENTS

Acknowledgments ix

Introduction

Suffering and Struggling: South Africa, Apartheid, and Nelson Mandela 1
Toyin Falola

Part A: Mandela in Politics: World Leaders and Public Figures Memorialize Madiba

A Man of Conviction 17
Shinzo Abe
Madiba and the Foundation 19
Tade Akin Aina
I Have Lost a Dear Friend 21
Kofi Annan
Tata, A Great Reformer 23
Joyce Banda
A Prayer for Divine Gifts 27
Jorge Mario Bergoglio
A Great Leader 29
Tony Blair
A True Global Hero 31
David Cameron
Mandela, the Creator of Hope 33
Jimmy Carter
Mandela and the Fight Against HIV/AIDS 35
Joana Casas
Mandela, Africans, and Cubans 37
Raúl Castro
The Power of Truth 39
Margaret Chan
Freedom in Forgiving 41
Bill Clinton
A Hero in Our Hearts and Minds 43
Abdou Salam Diallo
Tata and I 45
E.W. de Klerk
Mandela: A Pan-African Hero 47
Nkosazana Dlamini-Zuma
A Moral Leader 53
William Hague
A Lion of Humanitarian Causes 55
Daisaku Ikeda
Mandela Changed the Course of History 57
Jesse Jackson
A Source of Inspiration 59
Goodluck Jonathan
An Icon of Our Time 61
Hamid Karzai
The Power of Hope 63
Uhuru Kenyatta
A Stranger to Hate 65
John Kerry
Let Us Dream and Work Together 67
Ban Ki-Moon
A Praise Poem for Nelson Mandela 69
Thabo Mbeki
A Wise, Warm-Hearted, and Humorous Man 71
Angela Merkel
His Immortality Will Echo Down the Ages 73
Kgalema Motlanthe
The Icon of African Liberation 79
Robert Mugabe
A Powerful Source of Inspiration 81
The Muslim Brotherhood of Egypt
A Moral Leader of the Highest Order 83
Benjamin Netanyahu
He Belongs to the Ages 85
Barack Obama
A Legacy of Love and Partnership 87
Nancy Pelosi
A Remembrance of Madiba 89
Mamphela Ramphele
Feelings of Pain and Sorrow 91
Dilma Rousseff
A Loss to Africa and India 93
Manmohan Singh
We Can Change the World 95
Aung San Suu Kyi
We Thank God for Madiba 97
Desmond Tutu
Three Lessons from Mandela
Peter Weiss
101

We Dare Not Drop the Baton Mandela Has Handed to Us
Helen Zille
103

Nelson Mandela, Akekho Ofana Naye
Jacob Zuma
105

Part B: Mandela in History: Scholars on His Legacy

Nelson Rolihlahla Mandela
Michael O. Afolayan
113

A Lesson in Political Greatness
Anthony Akinola
117

Mandela, the World’s Iconic Figure
A.B. & Yvette Assensoh
119

Mandela’s Image Looms Large
Tunde Babawele
121

Hamba Kahle, Tatomkhulu Madiba
Saleem Badat
123

Leading from the Back
Andrew Barnes
125

Madiba’s Constitution
Russel H. Botman
127

A Man of Rain, Thunder, and Lightning
Barbara Brown
129

Mandela’s Heroic Life and Death
Tshepo Masango Chéry
131

Lessons from Mandela’s Life
Selwyn R. Cudjoe
133

The Peaceful “Trouble!”
Amatoritsero Ede
137

The Rainbow Nation
Robert Fine
139

The Legend
Tyler Fleming
143

Mandela, My Countryman
Nadine Gordimer
147

The Greatest Leader and Peacemaker of Our Time
Bessie House-Soremekun
151

Mandela’s Humanity
Cacee Hoyer
153

Three Lessons From Mandela’s Life
Bonny Ibhawoh
155

Mandela and the Global Fight for Freedom
Xavier Livermon
159

Not Even Madiba Was Great Enough!
Obadiah Mailafia
161

South Africa’s Finest Son
Paul Maylam
169

A Transformational Leader
Thomas McClendon
173

A Humble and Loyal Servant
Thandika Mkandawire
175

Mandela as the Public Face of the A.N.C.
Sifiso Mxolisi Ndlouv
179

If He Is a Man, Then What Are We?
Besi Brillian Muhonja & Oby Obyerodhyambo
183

The Passing of a World Leader
Victor Oguejiofor
193

Nelson Mandela: The Man Before the Myth
Olusanya Oluwemi Osha
197

To the Ages: A Tribute to Nelson Mandela
James A. Pritchett
203

More Than an Inspirational Freedom Fighter
Maxi Schoeman
205

Lessons from Mandela
Kelebogile Setiloane
207

Forgiveness and Freedom
Jonny Steinberg
209

A Tribute to Mandela’s Heroic Life and Death
Samuel Zalanga
213

Part C: Mandela in the Media: Journalists and Activists

The Mythical Figure
Zackie Achmat
219

The Irish Connection
Gerry Adams
221

The Great Bond
Mangosuthu Buthelezi
223

My Friend, Who Cared for Us All
Amina Cachalia
225

Dialogue: The Key Legacy
Jessie Duarte
227

Nelson Mandela and the Anti-Apartheid Movement
Peter Hain
229

Appraising a Legend
James Hamil
233

The Politest of Men
Douglas Hurd
237

A.N.C.’s Faustian Pact Sold Out
Ronnie Kasrils
239

South Africa’s Poorest
Toyin Falola
243
Part D: Mandela in Verse: Poetry and Tributes

A Giant of History 277
Julius O. Adekunle
Some Lives Charged Lives 281
Aderonke Adesola Adesanya
Rohithala: A Poem 283
Adeshina Afolayan
Motifs of Honor for Madiba 285
Kunle Filani
Madiba! 287
dele jegede
A Walk Through the Hearth 289
Peju Layiwola
Ode to Papa Afrika 291
Akin Ogundiran
“A Caring God:” A Poem for Madiba 293
Tanure Ojaide
Three Poems for Mandela: One 297
Moyo Okediji
Three Poems for Mandela: Two 299
Moyo Okediji
Three Poems for Mandela: Three 301
Moyo Okediji
A Tiwara Tribute 303
Bridget A. Teboh

Part E: Post-Mandela: After Madiba

The Politics of Mourning 307
Erik Bähr
The Eloquence of a Reflective Silence 309
Jean and John Comaroff
Rethinking the Past 311
Stephen Ellis
Coloureds in Racial Limbo 313
Monica Mark
Let’s Not Mourn a Myth 315
Matt Meyer
On the Death of a (Benign) Revolutionary 319
Bert Olivier
Is a Nigerian Mandela a Possibility? 321
Ayo Olukotun
A Radical, Not a Revolutionary 325
Gary Younge
If Mandela Had Won, He Wouldn’t Be Seen as a Hero 329
Slavoj Žižek

Image Credits

Front Matter 332
Introduction 332
Part A 332
Part B 335
Part C 340
Part D 342
Part E 342
ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

On December 5, 2013, Nelson Rolihlahla Mandela joined his ancestors. As in life, his death became a global event, and eulogies flooded in like a heavy downpour, in quantities and qualities that are unprecedented in African history. His burial on December 15th was witnessed all over the world, thanks to the global media. The entire African continent was united, in what can be described as a temporary rebirth of Pan-Africanism.

A very small number of the eulogies are included in this book, some written when his death was the most dominant piece of news, and some commissioned after his death. I have to thank all those who felt the need to put their emotions on paper, in verse and prose. Photographers and artists joined to form a powerful team to honor a great man. Some are older images; about a dozen are specially commissioned for this book. I am grateful to you all.

Mandela’s life reinforces the adage that character makes a person. A courageous fighter, an honest and tireless worker, an original thinker, the Madiba, as he was popularly called, put people at the center of his activities. It was clear that the progress of his country and its people was the motivation for his behavior, actions, and decisions.

Without the passion, hard work, and commitment of Ms. Jamie DeAngelo, who served as the manager of this project, this book would not have seen the light of day. She was efficient in reaching out to the contributors, determining when and how to seek copyrights, making the requests for photographs, and obtaining permissions to print. I cannot thank you enough, Jamie.

I imagine that, even in death, Mandela can still speak to us. As I walked on Nelson Mandela Street in Pretoria, I stood still on one spot and I imagined that he has composed, still fresh in heaven, a poem to caution us, his own way of joining me to express gratitude to Jamie and all the contributors:

Everything that glitters is not gold
Even the materials on the tomb in which I sleep for Good are not made of gold and ivory, as the world has been told
Transient objects, the sign of the fakeness of those left behind
Not the wholeness of my spirit.
Knowledge takes time — now I know
I wander in an unseen world
Wondering about my works’ rewards
Awaiting the day of judgment
I worried on earth about heaven
In heaven I think about earth
Though I am banned from re-entry.
Youth is the foundation of life
Old age is the triumph of youth
Search not for lost days
Repair not your old age
If the late days are crippled
To youth belongs all the blame.
When the world rots
It is not the whole world
Only one of the worlds
Apartheid’s rot does not doom the world.
Still posing? Still boasting?
Exploiting men and women?
Take a break to visit my grave
The flesh is no more — the bones have decayed
So shall it be your turn
When the body you now adorn
Will disintegrate
Apartheid’s curse and humanity’s cross
Merge into the cul de sac of death.

Toyin Falola,
Pretoria, March 2, 2014