

Ethnicities, Nationalities, and Cross-Cultural Representations in Africa and the Diaspora

CAROLINA ACADEMIC PRESS
AFRICAN WORLD SERIES
Toyin Falola, Series Editor

Africa, Empire and Globalization: Essays in Honor of A. G. Hopkins
Edited by Toyin Falola and Emily Brownell

African Entrepreneurship in Jos, Central Nigeria, 1902–1985
S. U. Fwatshak

An African Music and Dance Curriculum Model: Performing Arts in Education
Modesto Amegbo

Authority Stealing: Anti-Corruption War and Democratic Politics in Post-Military Nigeria
Wale Adebani

The Bukusu of Kenya: Folktales, Culture and Social Identities
Namulundah Florence

Contemporary African Literature: New Approaches
Tanure Ojaide

*Contesting Islam in Africa:
Homegrown Wahhabism and Muslim Identity in Northern Ghana, 1920–2010*
Abdulai Iddrisu

*Democracy in Africa:
Political Changes and Challenges*
Edited by Saliba Sarsar and Julius O. Adekunle

*Diaspora and Imagined Nationality:
USA-Africa Dialogue and Cyberframing Nigerian Nationhood*
Koleade Odotola

Èṣù: Yoruba God, Power, and the Imaginative Frontiers
Edited by Toyin Falola

Ethnicities, Nationalities, and Cross-Cultural Representations in Africa and the Diaspora
Edited by Gloria Chuku

Food Crop Production, Hunger, and Rural Poverty in Nigeria's Benue Area, 1920–1995
Mike Odugbo Odey

Globalization: The Politics of Global Economic Relations and International Business
N. Oluwafemi Mimiko

*A History of Class Formation in the Plateau Province of Nigeria, 1902–1960:
The Genesis of a Ruling Class*
Monday Yakiban Mangvwat

Horror in Paradise: Frameworks for Understanding the Crises of the Niger Delta Region of Nigeria
Edited by Christopher LaMonica and J. Shola Omotola

Ifá in Yorùbá Thought System
Omotade Adegbindin

In Search of African Diasporas: Testimonies and Encounters
Paul Tiyambe Zeleza

*Intercourse and Crosscurrents in the Atlantic World:
Calabar-British Experience, 17th–20th Centuries*
David Lishilinimle Imbua

Julius Nyerere, Africa's Titan on a Global Stage: Perspectives from Arusha to Obama
Edited by Ali A. Mazrui and Lindah L. Mhando

"Life Not Worth Living": Nigerian Petitions Reflecting an African Society's Experiences During World War II
Chima J. Korieh

*Local Government in South Africa Since 1994:
Leadership, Democracy, Development, and Service Delivery in a Post-Apartheid Era*
Alexius Amtaika

*Narratives of Struggle:
The Philosophy and Politics of Development in Africa*
John Ayotunde Bewaji

Perspectives on Feminism in Africa
Edited by 'Lai Olurode

*Pioneer, Patriot, and Nigerian Nationalist:
A Biography of the Reverend M. D. Opara, 1915–1965*
Felix Ekechi

Satires of Power in Yoruba Visual Culture
Yomi Ola

The Tiv and Their Southern Neighbours, 1890–1990
Emmanuel Chiahemba Ayangaôr

The United States' Foreign Policy in Africa in the 21st Century: Issues and Perspectives
Edited by Adebayo Oyeade

The Women's War of 1929: A History of Anti-Colonial Resistance in Eastern Nigeria
Edited by Toyin Falola and Adam Paddock

The Yoruba Frontier: A Regional History of Community Formation, Experience, and Changes in West Africa
Aribidesi Usman

Women, Gender, and Sexualities in Africa
Edited by Toyin Falola and Nana Akua Amponsah

Ethnicities, Nationalities, and Cross-Cultural Representations in Africa and the Diaspora

Edited by
Gloria Chuku

CAROLINA ACADEMIC PRESS
Durham, North Carolina

Copyright © 2015
Gloria Chuku
All Rights Reserved

Library of Congress Cataloging-in-Publication Data

Ethnicities, nationalities, and cross-cultural representations in Africa and the diaspora / edited by Gloria Chuku.

pages cm -- (African World Series.)

Includes bibliographical references and index.

ISBN 978-1-61163-663-5 (alk. paper)

1. African diaspora. 2. Ethnicity--Africa. 3. Africans--Ethnic identity. I. Chuku, Gloria, editor of compilation, author.

DT16.5.E84 2015
909'.0496--dc23

2015001405

Carolina Academic Press
700 Kent Street
Durham, NC 27701
Telephone (919) 489-7486
Fax (919) 493-5668
www.cap-press.com

Printed in the United States of America

In memory of my brother, Louis Anachebe Chuku, and sister, Fyne Chuku Onwuasoanya.

Contents

| | |
|-----------------------|-------|
| List of Illustrations | xvii |
| Acknowledgments | xix |
| Contributors | xxi |
| Map of Atlantic World | xxvii |
| Introduction | xxix |

SECTION I · AFRICANS, DIASPORAN AFRICANS, AND THE DEVELOPMENT OF AFRICA AND ITS DIASPORIC COMMUNITIES

| | |
|--|----------|
| Chapter 1 · The Repatriates and Creolization Processes in West Africa: The Case of Victoria in British Southern Cameroons | 3 |
| Richard Enoh | |
| Introduction | 3 |
| Factors that Prompted the African Diaspora and the Making of New Communities in the Americas | 6 |
| Black Experience: The Struggle for Identities and Nationalities in the African Diaspora | 8 |
| The Return to Africa: American English and New Dimensions of African Cultural Elements in the Creolization of the West African Region | 10 |
| The Repatriates as “Creoles” and “Krio”: Modernity, New Identities and New Communication Modes in the Creolization of Victoria Society | 13 |
| Conclusion | 17 |
| Notes | 18 |

| | |
|--|-----------|
| Chapter 2 · Nwafor Orizu, the American Council on African Education, and the Promotion of American Education in Nigeria | 21 |
| Gloria Chuku | |
| Introduction | 21 |
| Childhood | 23 |
| Education | 24 |
| Establishment of the American Council on African Education | 28 |
| The American Council on African Education and Scholarship Awards in Nigeria | 32 |
| The Trial and Imprisonment of Nwafor Orizu and the Demise of the ACAE | 41 |
| Conclusion | 54 |
| Notes | 56 |
| | |
| Chapter 3 · Rethinking the African Diaspora in the Era of Globalization: Building Economic Capacity for the Twenty-First Century and Beyond | 63 |
| Bessie House-Soremekun | |
| Introduction | 63 |
| Understanding the African Diaspora | 64 |
| Globalization and the African Diaspora | 69 |
| The Globalization of Hip Hop and Forged Connections with the Motherland | 71 |
| An Economic Plan of Action for the Twenty-First Century and Beyond | 74 |
| Building Economic Capacity and Sustainable Development | 74 |
| Entrepreneurial Training to Enhance Economic Development Processes | 76 |
| Need for a Global Diasporan Development Fund | 76 |
| Conclusion | 77 |
| Notes | 77 |
| | |
| Chapter 4 · “I Have No News”: Africa History and Africa Studies Today | 81 |
| Michael Vickers | |
| Introduction — The Falola Factor | 81 |
| “I Have No News” | 82 |
| The Operative Present | 82 |
| Ground-Works Engineers | 83 |

| | |
|---|----|
| The Foreseeable Future | 84 |
| The “Arab Spring” | 84 |
| Economic Relations | 85 |
| Political Developments | 85 |
| Enveloping Darkness: Inevitable Diversion | 86 |
| The Horizon Future | 87 |
| Aero-Fuels and Aero-Transporters | 87 |
| Medical Science | 88 |
| The “News” in Conclusion | 88 |
| Humans the Toolmakers | 89 |
| Notes | 89 |

SECTION II · GENDERED RITUALS AND PERFORMANCES IN AFRICA
AND THE DIASPORA

| | |
|---|---------|
| Chapter 5 · Religion in Africa and the Universal Culture of Initiation Rites | 95 |
| Adelowo F. Adetunji and Adefemi Adesina | |
| Introduction | 95 |
| Rite of Initiation | 96 |
| Forms and Structures of Rituals | 96 |
| African Traditional Religion | 98 |
| Rites of Passage in African Traditional Religion | 98 |
| Initiation Process within Sango Cult | 100 |
| Islam in Nigeria | 102 |
| Rite of Passage in Islam | 102 |
| Baptism: The Initiation Rite in Christianity | 105 |
| Preparation for Baptism in the Seventh-day Adventist Church | 107 |
| Conduct of the Baptismal Initiation | 109 |
| Profession of Faith | 110 |
| Conclusion | 111 |
| Notes | 113 |
| Chapter 6 · “Que dança é essa?”: Reflections of Gendered Power Relations and Sociocultural Expressions of Sexuality in Agarrado Dancing to Roots Reggae in São Luis do Maranhão, Brazil | 117 |
| Gee A. Yawson | |
| Introduction | 117 |

| | |
|---|------------|
| São Luis do Maranhão, Brazil | 119 |
| Conceptualizing Race, Gender and Sexuality in Colonial and Postcolonial Brazil | 120 |
| Roots Reggae and Agarradinho : Manifestations of Heteropatriarchy, Racialization, Genderization and Sexualization in the Agarrado Dancehall | 124 |
| Conclusion | 129 |
| Notes | 130 |
| Chapter 7 · African Women in Drumming: The Art and Performance of Ayanbinrin | 133 |
| Mobolanle E. Sotunsa | |
| Introduction | 133 |
| Profile of Tosin Adekanye: AKA Ayanbinrin | 135 |
| The Challenges and Advantages of a Female Drummer in Yoruba Culture | 136 |
| Identity-Making in the Art and Performance of Ayanbinrin | 138 |
| Literary Analysis of Drum Poetry Texts in Ayanbinrin's Unveil | 139 |
| Indigenous and Contemporary Dynamics | 143 |
| Conclusion | 144 |
| Notes | 145 |
| Chapter 8 · Costumes and Apparels of Popular Masquerades in Cross River State, Nigeria | 147 |
| Bojor Enamhe | |
| Introduction | 147 |
| Costumes and Masquerades | 148 |
| Literature Review | 149 |
| Popular Masquerades in Cross River State | 151 |
| Ekpe Masquerade | 152 |
| Tinkorikor | 158 |
| Conclusion | 158 |
| Notes | 159 |

SECTION III · NATIONALITIES, MEDIA AND LITERARY REPRESENTATIONS OF AFRICA AND AFRICANS

| | |
|---|-----|
| Chapter 9 · Japanese Newspaper Coverage of Africa (and African Soldiers) during World War II: The Case of the Tokyo Nichi Nichi (Mainichi) Shimbun, 1939–1945 | 163 |
| Yasu'o Mizobe | |
| Introduction | 163 |
| Afro–Japanese Relations before World War II and the Transformation of the Japanese Image of Africa | 164 |
| From the Sixteenth Century to the Mid-Nineteenth Century | 164 |
| The Turn of the Twentieth Century (Meiji Period, 1868–1912) | 165 |
| The First Half of the Twentieth Century before World War II | 166 |
| Japanese Newspaper Coverage of Africa during World War II | 169 |
| Press Regulations during World War II | 169 |
| How Africa Was Described in the Wartime Press in Japan | 172 |
| Conclusion | 178 |
| Notes | 178 |
| | |
| Chapter 10 · The Defunct “Self” and “Other”: Constructing New Identity for Nationhood in Zakes Mda’s The Bells of Amersfoort | 183 |
| Busuyi E. Mekusi | |
| Introduction | 183 |
| Identity and the Individual | 186 |
| Synopsis of the Text | 187 |
| Textual Analysis | 188 |
| Concluding Statements | 194 |
| Notes | 195 |
| | |
| Chapter 11 · Interpretations of African Migrant Masculinities in Contemporary Francophone Novels | 199 |
| Eunice E. Omonzejie | |
| Introduction | 199 |
| Bodies of Labor | 203 |
| Marginalized Citizens | 205 |
| Objectified Sex Symbols | 208 |
| Hybridized Identities | 209 |
| Non-Patriarchal Heads | 211 |

| | |
|--|-----|
| Conclusion | 212 |
| Notes | 213 |
| SECTION IV · POLITICS AND THE DYNAMICS OF ETHNICITY AND NATIONALITY IN AFRICA | |
| Chapter 12 · Federal Character: The Untold Realities of the Nigerian Geopolitics | 217 |
| Bola Dauda | |
| Introduction | 217 |
| Understanding the Principle and Practice of Federal Character | 218 |
| Federal Character: An Adaptation of the 19th-Century American Spoils System | 221 |
| The Realities of the Game of Politics in Nigeria | 223 |
| The Incumbent Factor and the Nigerian Geopolitics: The Genesis | 225 |
| The Colonial Heritage and the Realities of the Education Factor | 229 |
| Indigenes and Strangers: The Realities of Nigerian Citizenship | 232 |
| Federal Character and the Realities of Human Psychology | 235 |
| The Way Forward is to Break Bonds with the National History | 236 |
| Conclusion | 239 |
| Notes | 240 |
| Chapter 13 · Ethnicity, Nationalism, Statism, Citizenship and the Right to Non-Discrimination under the Nigerian Constitution | 243 |
| Eteete M. Adam | |
| Introduction | 243 |
| State | 244 |
| Nation | 245 |
| Nationalism | 246 |
| Ethnicity | 247 |
| Citizenship | 247 |
| Citizenship Rights | 249 |
| Discriminatory State Policies and Legislation | 253 |
| Discriminatory State Practices | 254 |
| Conclusion | 257 |
| Notes | 257 |
| Chapter 14 · Can Pax Nigeriana Survive Chinese Africana? | 261 |
| Abdul-Gafar Tobi Oshodi and Bukola Ajayi | |
| Introduction | 261 |

| | |
|--|-----|
| Pax Nigeriana : Some Clarifications and Manifestations in Africa | 264 |
| Chinese Africana : Meaning and Manifestations in Africa | 272 |
| The Implications of Chinese Africana on Pax Nigeriana | 276 |
| Conclusion: Towards Connecting the Domestic and the International | 283 |
| Notes | 285 |
| Selected Bibliography | 307 |
| Index | 343 |

List of Illustrations

| | |
|--|-------|
| Map of the Atlantic World | xxvii |
| Figure 8.1 Ikwom-Ishor Masquerades of Obudu | 152 |
| Figure 8.2 Ekpe Masquerade | 153 |
| Figure 8.3 Ekpe Masquerade | 154 |
| Figure 8.4 Ekong Ikong Ukom Masquerades | 155 |
| Figure 8.5 Mgbe Masquerades | 156 |
| Figure 8.6 Obam Masquerade | 157 |
| Figure 8.7 Obam Masquerade | 157 |
| Table 9.1 Annual Circulations of Major Newspapers in Japan, 1874–1879 | 169 |
| Figure 9.1 Annual Circulation of the Tokyo Nichi Nichi (Mainichi) Shimbun | 170 |
| Figure 9.2 The Flight Route of the Nippon | 172 |
| Figure 9.3 Front Page of the Mainichi Shimbun 's March 10, 1944, Issue | 177 |

Acknowledgments

Most of the papers in this volume originated from the Toyin Falola Annual Conference (TOFAC), which was held in Lagos, Nigeria, in July 2012. The conference was sponsored by the Center for Black and African Arts and Civilization (CBAAC), Lagos, Nigeria. I am grateful to the conference organizers and CBAAC, especially Ademola Dasylva and members of his local organizing team whose energy and hard work made the conference a success. I am deeply grateful to Toyin Falola and Ademola Dasylva for inviting me to edit some of the selected conference papers. I extend many thanks to all the conference participants for their stimulating discussions and to those whose papers appear in this volume for their patience and compliance to the revision guidelines. I thank my friends; Christine Ohale for a thorough proofreading of the book's "Introduction" and Chapter 2; and T. Obinkaram Echewa, for his words of encouragement. I want to thank my daughter, Chisom, who endured and supported the completion of this book. Above all, I remain deeply grateful to God Almighty for His mercy and countless blessings.

Gloria Chuku
University of Maryland, Baltimore County
Fall 2014

Contributors

Eteete Michael Adam is a Senior Lecturer of International Law and Diplomacy at Babcock University, Ilishan-Remo, Ogun State, Nigeria. He holds a Post-graduate Diploma in Education from Tai Solarin University of Education, Ogun State, Nigeria, a masters degree in International Relations and Strategic Studies from Lagos State University, Nigeria, a master's degree in Law from the University of Ibadan, a Bachelor of Laws of the Nigerian Law School, and a first degree in Law from the University of Uyo, all in Nigeria. His areas of research interest include international law and diplomacy, constitutional law, development studies, and International Humanitarian Law, especially as pertaining to armed conflict. He is co-author of Introduction to International Relations (Ibadan, 2009); and has contributed chapters in books and articles in peer reviewed national and international journals. He is a member of several professional associations, including International Research and Development Institute (IRDI), African Studies Association (ASA), Nigerian Society of International Humanitarian Law (NSIHL), Nigerian Association of Law Teachers (NALT), Nigerian Society of International Law (NSIL), African Council for Communication Education (ACCE), International Studies Association (ISA), Nigerian Bar Association (NBA), African Bar Association (ABA), International Bar Association (IBA), and Chartered Institute of Arbitrators, United Kingdom.

Adefemi Samuel Adesina, Ph.D., is a graduate of Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary, Andrews University, Berrien Spring, Michigan, USA. His is an ordained minister of the Seventh-day Adventist Church. He currently teaches at Babcock University, Ilishan Remo in Ogun State, Nigeria. His areas of specialty include Christian Mission and ministry, Inter-cultural Studies, and World Religions.

Adelowo Felix Adetunji, Ph.D., was born and grew up in Shao, a typical Yoruba community in Kwara State, Nigeria. He obtained his final degree from Obafemi Awolowo University, Ile-Ife, Osun State, Nigeria. Currently, he teaches at Babcock University, Ilishan-Remo, Ogun State. His areas of specialization are Comparative Religion, and religion and society. He is an ordained minister of the Seventh-day Adventist Church.

Bukola Ajayi holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in History and International Studies from Lagos State University (LASU) in Nigeria and a master's degree in Public and International Affairs of the University of Lagos (UNILAG) in Nigeria. While pursuing a career in Banking Operations, with over seven years of professional experience, she has been involved in research and studies on Sino-African relations. She is particularly concerned with the (in)capacities of African states and non-state actors in engaging Chinese state and business interests in Africa. She is currently working on the subject for her Ph.D. studies.

Gloria Chuku is a professor of Africana Studies with a specialty in African history, Affiliate faculty of Gender and Women's Studies, and Language, Literacy and Culture Ph.D. Program at the University of Maryland, Baltimore County, USA. She received her doctorate in African history from the University of Nigeria, Nsukka. Her research has focused primarily on Igbo history and culture, gender studies, women and the political economies of Nigeria and Africa, ethnonationalisms and conflicts in Nigeria, African nationalism and intellectual history, and slavery, slave trade and African Diaspora. Dr. Chuku is the editor of The Igbo Intellectual Tradition: Creative Conflict in African and African Diasporic Thought (2013) and author of Igbo Women and Economic Transformation in Southeastern Nigeria, 1900-1960 (2005). She has also published over 40 scholarly articles in peer-reviewed international journals and multi-authored volumes. She is currently working on a book manuscript on gender, ethnonationalism and the Biafra-Nigeria War.

Bola Dauda had his first degree in social sciences at the University of Ife in 1974, worked as a teacher and a civil servant in Nigeria between 1974 and 1983, and obtained his master's and doctorate degrees in public administration from the University of Liverpool in 1985 and 1988 respectively. He has held faculty positions at the Universities of Liverpool, Leicester, and Edge Hill University College of Lancaster, and he is a life member of the UK Coaching Academy and an honorary fellow of the University of Leicester. He is a published novelist and commentator on human conditions, and an author of half a dozen books, including The American Way, Why Am I Here? and Living a Life of Abundance. He has contributed extensively and effectively to academic discourses in public policy, and his works have been translated to French, Spanish, and Chinese. He has many entries in The Encyclopedia of the Yoruba. He now spends his spare time in community developmental projects, freelance academic research and writing, public speaking, coaching and mentoring, traveling, and writing his memoirs for parents, guardians, and his godchildren.

Bojor Enamhe is a senior lecturer in the Department of Visual Arts and Technology at the Cross River University of Technology, Calabar, Cross River State, Nigeria, where she teaches Art History, Art Appreciation, and Art Management. She obtained a BA in Art History from the Amadu Bello University, Zaria, Nigeria, MA in Arts Management and a Ph.D. in Arts Administration from the University of Calabar in Nigeria. Her research interest is in developmental issues in visual art.

Richard Agbor Enoh is a Senior Lecturer with the Department of History, University of Buea, South West Cameroon. He holds a Ph.D. in History with a focus on African Diaspora Studies. Dr. Enoh is the author of Field Research and Guide in Historical Writing. His articles include “Indigenous Slavery and Emerging Identities, An Assessment in the Field: Views of the Upper Banyangs in South West Cameroon”; “Cultural Realities and the Crisis of Identity: King Bila Revelations and Historical Truth on Bimbia-Douala Relations”, “Possibilities and Realities: Diaspora Linkages and Investments in South West Cameroons since 1980”; and “Interaction between the Government and the Diasporas: The West African Case of Cameroon.” He has presented papers on slavery and the transatlantic slave trade, African repatriates in West Africa, and on Pan Africanism at many national and international conferences and seminars. Dr. Enoh was for five years African representative on the Promised Land Project (PLP), a community-based research team, sponsored by the Canadian Government (2007-2012). He is a member of the Management Board of Epasa Moto: A Bilingual Journal of Arts, Letters and the Humanities, University of Buea, South West Cameroon.

Bessie House-Soremekun, Ph.D., is Director of Africana Studies, Public Scholar in African American Studies, Civic Engagement, and Entrepreneurship, Professor of Political Science and Africana Studies, and the Founding Executive Director of the Center for Global Entrepreneurship and Sustainable Development at Indiana University Purdue University Indianapolis. She is the author/editor of six books, including Class Development and Gender Inequality in Kenya, 1963-1990; African Market Women and Economic Power: The Role of Women in African Economic Development; Confronting the Odds: African American Entrepreneurship in Cleveland, Ohio, 1st and 2nd Editions; Gender, Sexuality, and Mothering in Africa; and Globalization and Sustainable Development in Africa. She has also published many journal articles and book chapters. She has received numerous awards and honors through the years, including three chieftaincy titles in Nigeria, one of which (Erelu Bada Asiawaju of Egbaland) was conferred upon her by His Royal Majesty, King (Oba) Michael Adedotun Aremu Gbadebo, the Alake and Paramount Ruler of Egbaland. She has created five entrepreneurial centers through the years that have produced award-winning research, business training programs, and curriculums. She has written and received more than 20 grant awards totaling almost $1.4 million from federal agencies, private foundations, state entities, and educational institutions to perform research and outreach in Africa and minority communities in the United States.

Busuyi Mekusi holds a Ph.D. from the Discipline of African Literature, University of the Witwatersrand, Johannesburg, South Africa. His doctoral research investigates the negotiation of memory and identity for nation-building, as well as the attendant challenges of crime and corruption in post-apartheid South African drama. Overall, the research emphasizes the place of ‘self’ in relation to both the gene of the parent and the genius of the environment. He currently teaches literature in English, Theory and Criticism at the Department of English Studies, Adekunle Ajasin University, Akungba Akoko, Nigeria. He has published scholarly articles in reputable journals and is as well a creative writer. He is the author of a play: Whispers Across the Wall. His poems have also been published in academic journals and anthologies.

Dr. Yasu’o Mizobe is an Associate Professor at the School of Global Japanese Studies, Meiji University, Tokyo, Japan, who teaches courses on modern history of Africa and African-Japanese relations. His recent publications include A Survey of Gold Coast (Southern Ghanaian) Newspapers in the Latter Half of the Nineteenth Century (Cape Town: Centre for Advanced Studies of African Society, 2007); “Another Aspect of an Early Gold Coast Nationalist: S.R.B. Attoh-Ahuma’s Missionary Work before the End of the Nineteenth Century,” in Abibisem: Journal of African Culture and Civilization 1 (2009); and “The African Press Coverage of Japan and British Censorship during World War II: A Case Study of the Ashanti Pioneer, 1939–1945,” in Tinabantu: Journal of African National Affairs (2012).

Dr. Eunice E. Omonzejie is an Associate Professor of French Studies in the Department of Modern Languages, Ambrose Alli University, Ekpoma, Nigeria. She is the erstwhile chair of her department and Sub-Dean of the Faculty of Arts of Ambrose Alli University. She is a scholar of African literature of French expression as well as French literature. Her areas of interest include women, masculinities and migration studies. She has written several articles and chapters in books in both French and English. She has been the editor of the last three volumes of the interdisciplinary journal: Focus on Contemporary Issues (2011, 2012 and 2013) as well as editor of Female Novelists of Francophone Black Africa: Views, Reviews, Interviews (2011).

Abdul-Gafar Tobi Oshodi holds a bachelor’s degree in Political Science from Lagos State University (LASU) and two master’s degrees in Public and International Affairs and in Political Science from the University of Lagos and University of Ibadan, Nigeria respectively. A trained journalist with over 10 year of experience, Oshodi taught in the Department of Political Science at LASU for six years. He has presented his views on China in Africa at numerous local and international fora and his latest work on the subject matter is scheduled to be published as a chapter in Global Governance of Labor Rights edited by Axel Marx, Glenn Rayp, Laura Beke and Jan Wouters (Cheltenham, UK and Northampton, MA, USA). Apart from China in Africa, his research interest covers the nexus between peace and development in Africa with a particular bias for understanding the role(s) of state and non-state actors. He is a fellow of the Social Science Research Council's (SSRC) Next Generation of Social Sciences in Africa and currently a doctoral researcher at the Center for Research on Peace and Development (CRPD), University of Leuven (KU Leuven), Belgium.

Mobolanle Ebunoluwa Sotunsa is a professor of gender studies and African oral literature in the department of Languages and Literary Studies, Babcock University, Nigeria. She holds a doctorate degree from the Department of English, University of Ibadan, Nigeria. Her areas of specialization are African Literature, African Oral Literatures and African Women's Writings.

Michael Vickers holds a doctorate degree in Political Science and West African Studies from the University of Birmingham. He is Emeritus Director of Parliamentary and Public Affairs, The Hillfield Agency (UK). He taught Political Science at the University of Ife (now Obafemi Awolowo University), Nigeria; and also taught and conducted research at universities in America, Canada, and the United Kingdom. He is a recipient of the Distinguished Academic Award (2012) from the Toyin Falola Annual International Conference on Africa and the African Diaspora, (Lagos, Nigeria). He is author of many books and essays in academic journals and book volumes. His books include (with Ken Post) Structure and Conflict in Nigeria, 1960-65 (London & Madison, 1973); Ethnicity and Sub-Nationalism in Nigeria (Oxford, 2000); Odes of Forest and Town, (Sussex, 2002); Phantom Trail—Discovering Ancient America, (New York, 2005); A Nation Betrayed—Nigeria and the 1957 Minorities Commission (Trenton, NJ, 2010); and Phantom Ship (Trenton, NJ, 2013).

Gee A. Yawson is a legal anthropologist and a Brazilianist dance ethnographer whose research interests focus on the connections of the anthropology of African descendant peoples, gender and sexuality studies, postcolonial studies, critical legal studies and international human rights law. She received a dual Bachelor of Science in Biological and Evolutionary Psychology and Applied French Linguistics and Francophone Studies at The Pennsylvania State University in 2005. In 2008, she earned a Master of Science in Justice Law and Society from The American University in Washington DC. She also holds Juris Doctorate (JD) and Masters of Law degrees in Intercultural Human Rights Law from St. Thomas University School of Law. Currently, she is working on her dissertation project, which examines the performative spaces of Reggaeir@s in São Luis do Maranhão, Brazil.

Map of the Atlantic World

