Annotated Table of Contents — DRAFT
THE COMPLETE LEGAL WRITER

by
Alexa Z. Chew, J.D., and Katie Rose Guest Pryal, J.D., Ph.D.

Preface

Part 1. Legal Foundations

1. Legal Discourse

I. Welcome to Legal Communication
A. Legal Discourse Is Strange
B. Legal Documents Are Strange

II. Use the Rhetorical Triangle
A. Audience: Whom Are You Writing for?
B. Purpose: What Is Your Document’s Function?
C. Persona: How Do You Want to Come Across?

III. Pair Claims with Authorities

2. Legal Authorities

I. Welcome to Legal Authorities
A. Legal Authorities Are Primary or Secondary

(c) 2015 Katie Rose Guest Pryal & Alexa Z. Chew
B. Read Citations to Assess the Weight of Legal Authorities

II. Federal Primary Authorities
A. Parallel Systems of Government
B. The Federal Legislative Branch
C. The Federal Executive Branch
D. The Federal Judicial Branch
E. Federal Citations in the Wild

III. State Primary Authorities
A. Parallel Universes
B. State Legislative Branches
C. State Executive Branches
D. State Judicial Branches
E. State Citations in the Wild

3. Legal Genres

I. Identify a Legal Document’s Genre

II. Identify the Genre’s Audience

III. Locate Strong Samples of the Genre

IV. Create a Document Map

V. Put It All Together and Write
A. Outline the Document Parts
B. Write the Easy Parts, Outline the Harder Parts
C. Turn Your Outline into Text
D. Apply Formatting Conventions
4. Legal Logic

I. The Golden Rule: Explain Before You Apply

II. Basic Legal Logic: Syllogisms

III. C-RAC and Friends: Legal Syllogisms in Action

5. Legal Analysis

I. Logical Gaps

II. Cut-and-Paste Gap Filling
A. Rule Alignment and Determinative Facts
B. C-RAC Creation

III. Invisible Rule Gap Filling
A. Extracting Rules from Case Law
B. Rule Synthesis
C. Creating C-RACs with Synthesized Rules

IV. Analogical Gap Filling
A. Analogy Basics
B. Extracting Useful Facts from Case Law
C. Creating C-RACs with Case Illustrations

V. Policy Gap Filling
A. Extracting Implicit Policy
B. Creating C-RACs with Policy
6. Assessing Authorities

I. Is This Authority “Good” Support for This Claim?

II. Binding Authority and Stare Decisis

III. Criteria for Assessing the Weight of Legal Authorities
   A. Primary or Secondary Authority
   B. Geographic Jurisdiction
   C. Type of Primary Authority
   D. Recency
   E. Level of Issuing Court (for Cases)
   F. Whether a Case Is Published or Unpublished
   G. Applicability

7. Legal Reading

I. Rhetorical Analysis of a Judicial Opinion
   A. Audience
   B. Purpose
   C. Persona

II. Common Features of a Judicial Opinion
   A. Header
   B. Overview
   C. Summary of the Underlying Facts
   D. Procedural History
   E. Identification of the Issues
   F. Procedural Rules
   G. Substantive Legal Rules
   H. Application of the Law to the Facts
   I. Conclusion
   J. Disposition
III. Effectively Reading a Judicial Opinion
A. Read with a Goal
B. Get Your Bearings
C. Use the Headings
D. Annotate Efficiently
E. Pull It Together

IV. Identifying an Opinion’s Holding

V. Reading Statutes and Regulations
A. Study the Scheme
B. Every Word Counts
C. Read On

8. Analysis Structure

I. Unitary Analysis

II. Branching Analyses: Elements and Factors

III. Cascading Analyses

IV. Multi-Issue Analyses

Part 2. Writing Legal Genres

9. Office Memo

I. Read a Sample

II. Study the Genre
A. Audience
B. Purpose
C. Persona
III. Examine More Samples
A. Distinguishing Features
B. Read the Samples

IV. Create a Document Map

10. Email Memo

I. Read a Sample

II. Study the Genre
A. Audience
B. Purpose
C. Persona

III. Examine More Samples
A. Distinguishing Features
B. Read the Samples

IV. Create a Document Map

11. Client Letter

I. Read a Sample

II. Study the Genre
A. Audience
B. Purpose
C. Persona

III. Examine More Samples
A. Distinguishing Features
B. Read the Samples
IV. Create a Document Map

12. Demand Letter

I. Read a Sample

II. Study the Genre
   A. Audience
   B. Purpose
   C. Persona

III. Examine More Samples
   A. Distinguishing Features
   B. Read the Samples

IV. Create a Document Map

13. Complaint

I. Read a Sample

II. Study the Genre
   A. Audience
   B. Purpose
   C. Persona

III. Examine More Samples
   A. Distinguishing Features
   B. Read the Samples
IV. Create a Document Map

14. Trial Motion and Brief

I. Read a Sample

II. Study the Genre
   A. Audience
   B. Purpose
   C. Persona

III. Examine More Samples
   A. Distinguishing Features
   B. Read the Samples

IV. Create a Document Map

15. Motion Hearing

I. Examine a Sample

II. Study the Genre
   A. Audience
   B. Purpose
   C. Persona

III. Examine More Samples
   A. Distinguishing Features
   B. Watch the Samples
IV. Create a Document Map

16. Appellate Brief

I. Read a Sample

II. Study the Genre
A. Audience
B. Purpose
C. Persona

III. Examine More Samples
A. Distinguishing Features
B. Read the Samples

IV. Create a Document Map

17. Appellate Oral Argument

I. Examine a Sample

II. Study the Genre
A. Audience
B. Purpose
C. Persona

III. Examine More Samples
A. Distinguishing Features
B. Watch or Listen to the Samples
IV. Create a Document Map

18. Appellate Opinion

I. Read a Sample

II. Study the Genre
   A. Audience
   B. Purpose
   C. Persona

III. Examine More Samples
   A. Distinguishing Features
   B. Read the Samples

IV. Create a Document Map

19. Employer Website Blog Post

I. Read a Sample

II. Study the Genre
   A. Audience
   B. Purpose
   C. Persona

III. Examine More Samples
   A. Distinguishing Features
   B. Read the Samples

IV. Create a Document Map

Part 3. Composing Legal Documents
20. Determine Document Parts

I. Refer to Your Document Map
A. What Document Parts Are in Your Samples?
B. What Document Parts Seem Flexible?

II. Consider Your Audience
A. What Document Parts Does Your Audience Mandate?
B. Where Does Your Audience Give You Flexibility?

III. Assess Court Rules
A. Locating Court Rules
B. Using Court Rules

21. Brainstorm and Outline

I. Freewrite
A. Freewrite Strategy 1: Timed Writing
B. Freewrite Strategy 2: Looping
C. Freewrite Strategy 3: Changing Your Medium
D. Freewrite Strategy 4: Question-and-Answer

II. Outline
A. Outline Strategy 1: Argument-Based Outlining
B. Outline Strategy 2: Mind-Mapping and Flow-Charting
C. Outline Strategy 3: Reverse-Outlining

III. Research to Write

22. Research Authorities

I. Kick-Starting Your Research
A. Review the Facts
B. Review the Law
II. Starting with Something
A. Expand from What You Know
B. Look Inside
C. Look Outside
D. Generate Search Terms

III. Starting with Nothing
A. Look Inside
B. Look Outside

IV. Using a Research Strategy
A. Create Your Research Strategy
B. Adapt Your Research Strategy

V. Locating Legal Authorities
A. Research Using Books
B. Research Online Using Free Government Databases
C. Research Online Using Commercial Legal Databases
D. Research Online Using Non-Legal Resources

VI. Research Flowchart

23. Write Effective Facts

I. Sort Your Facts
A. Legally Persuasive Facts
B. Emotionally Persuasive Facts
C. Irrelevant Facts
D. Tabbing and Annotating
II. Select Facts Appropriate for Your Genre

III. Write Procedural History

IV. Create a Cast of Characters
   A. Identify Motivations
   B. Name and Describe the Characters
   C. Use Pathos to Your Advantage

V. Use Chronology
   A. Why Follow Chronological Order?
   B. Why Break Chronological Order?
   C. Break Chronological Order with “The Swoop”

24. Create a Theory of the Case

I. What Is a Theory of the Case?

II. Craft a Theory of the Case
   A. Applicable Law
   B. Undisputed Facts
   C. Method to Confirm Bias

III. Analyze a Theory of the Case
   A. Theory for the Defense
   B. Theory for the Prosecution
   C. Analyzing the Theories
IV. Craft a Case Theme

25. Organize an Analysis

I. Identifying Your Issues

II. Selecting an Analysis Structure

III. Ordering Your Issues
   A. Order by Strength
   B. Order by Rule

IV. Crafting Headings
   A. Part Headings
   B. Topical Headings
   C. Point Headings and Subheadings

26. Write an Analysis

I. Write Procedural Rule Passages
   A. Trial and Appellate Standards
   B. Researching Procedural Rules and Standards
   C. Organizing Procedural Rules

II. Write Your Substantive Rule Passage
   A. Begin Your Substantive Rule Passage
   B. Write Your Sub-Rules: Branching Analysis
   C. Conduct Conclusory Analysis
   D. Preview Your Analyses: Roadmaps

III. Write Your C-RAC(s)
   A. Presenting Rules from General to Specific
   B. Explaining How Your Rules Apply to Your Facts
   C. Concluding Your C-RACs and Connecting Them Together
27. Illustrate Rules

I. Determine Whether to Illustrate Rules
A. Does the Rule Align with Your Facts?
B. Is the Rule Easy to Understand?
C. Do You Need to Analogize?

II. Illustrate Rules Effectively

III. Place Case Illustrations Properly

IV. Apply Case Illustrations to Facts

28. Cite Authorities

I. Cite While You Write
A. Using Citation Shortcuts
B. Keeping a List of Authorities

II. Use Signals Effectively
A. Familiarize Yourself with Signals
B. Use Explanatory Parentheticals
C. Develop Judgment About Signals and Parentheticals
D. Candor to the Tribunal

III. Format Citations Properly
A. Using Citation Manuals
B. Style Rules in Citation Manuals
C. Citing Factual Authorities
D. Local Citation Rules
29. Arrange Paragraphs and Sentences

I. Assess Your Paragraphs
   A. Topic Sentences
   B. Create a List
   C. Paragraph Slip

II. Create “Flow”
   A. The Known-New Technique
   B. Known-New and Scaffolding
   C. Ineffective Scaffolding
   D. Implementing Scaffolding

III. Transition Words and Phrases

IV. The Arrangement Checklist

30. Use Effective Style

I. Concision and Precision
   A. Use Strong Verbs
   B. Avoid Ambiguous Language

II. Legalese
   A. Tempering Qualifiers
   B. Intensifiers
   C. Paired Synonyms

III. Tone
   A. Striking the Right Tone
   B. Audience Awareness
   C. Appropriateness and Formality
31. Design Clean Documents

I. Medium, File Type, and File Name

II. Fonts and Headings

III. Margins and Spacing

IV. Email Considerations
   A. Email Text Format
   B. Attachments
   C. Signatures

Part 4. Implementing Feedback

32. Peer Feedback

I. Why Peer Feedback?

II. Provide Peer Feedback
   A. First Read-Through: React
   B. Second Read-Through: Provide a Reverse Outline of the Analysis
   C. Third Read-Through: Diagnose
   D. Discuss
   E. Focus on the Writing, Not the Writer

III. Receive Peer Feedback
   A. Provide Copies
   B. Provide Plenty of Time
   C. Read Comments Carefully
   D. Listen
   E. Thank Your Partner for the Feedback
IV. Conduct Simultaneous Peer Feedback

33. Professor and Supervisor Feedback

I. Receive Professor Feedback
A. Why Your Professor Is Giving You Feedback
B. Tips for Interacting with Your Professor

II. Receive Supervisor Feedback
A. Why Your Supervisor Is Giving You Feedback
B. Product Over Process

III. Implement Professor or Supervisor Feedback
A. Assess Feedback
B. Apply Feedback to the Present Document
C. Apply Feedback to Future Documents

IV. Prepare for a Conference with Your Professor or Supervisor
A. Arrive with Materials
B. Create an Agenda
C. Nail Down Logistics

V. Confer with Your Professor or Supervisor
A. Be Prepared to Be Wrong
B. Get What You Came For
C. Take Effective Notes

34. Self-Feedback

I. Self-Revision Strategies
A. Write a Reverse Outline
B. Circle Citations
C. Write a Reflection Document
II. Self-Editing Strategies
A. Read Out Loud
B. Read on Paper
C. Change the Appearance
D. Review Your Personalized Editing Checklist